

1000

WITNESSES DISPUTE POINT IN STORY OF PASTOR'S WIDOW

MRS. HALL HAS FAITH IN RECTOR'S LOVE; SINGER'S HUSBAND DEMANDS ARRESTS

Continued From First Page

Hall's declaration that she never had to the Phillips farm.

"The Sunday before the murder people in the Parker home saw her," Mrs. Gibson declared.

Two witnesses, according to the police, have stated that it was 2:15 a. m. that she entered her home.

Detective James P. Mason named them. He said:

"William Phillips, the watchman at the New Jersey State College for Women, which is near the Hall house, says that she returned at 2:15 o'clock. This is corroborated by A. H. Bennett, who says that he heard her dog barking and went out and asked Phillips what the trouble was. Phillips said 'No trouble, Mrs. Hall has just come home.'"

In her interview with newspapermen, Mrs. Hall said she entered her home that morning in the company of her brother, William Stevens. "The two witnesses who entered alone—James Mills, husband of the murdered choir singer, said that some of the statements in Mrs. Hall's interview were not accurate.

On Friday—the day after the murders were committed—Mills said that he saw Mrs. Hall four times, instead of twice, as she asserted in the interview. Mrs. Hall had stated she saw Mills first about 7 o'clock in the morning.

He said:

"I am sure it was about 8:30 o'clock. The children had gone to school. Mrs. Hall said her husband had not come home. I exclaimed, 'My God, Eleanor has not come either. I think they have eloped.'"

"No," she replied, "I think they have not with foul play."

Mr. Mills' statement is taken to be an indication that both families knew of the attachment between the rector and the choir singer.

NEVER HEARD "GOSPEL."

Mills said, however, that he had never heard any "nasty gossip" about his wife and Dr. Hall.

"If I had heard any such gossip I would have gone to Mr. Hall. If he had refused to listen to me I would have gone to the vestrymen of the Bishop of the diocese."

"I never heard of Dr. Hall having any enemies."

Woman's Letter Helped to Solve Murder Mystery

A letter, which the Cambridge police say was written by the woman claiming to be Mrs. Sarah Fantasia and accused with three men of the murder of Bruno Montagna, was given out today. It was to Mrs. Raffelle I. Sano of No. 14 Sophia street, Olverville, R. I., sister of the woman who signed "Ammina." Mrs. Fantasia has denied even knowing Montagna, but the letter says "Montagna" was the father of her boy. The letter, postmarked Boston, Oct. 29, is the one that led to the woman's arrest. Written in Italian, it reads, as translated, in part:

"My Dear Sister—I am going back to Italy tomorrow by the steamer Gulapelli Verdi, because my husband was tired of my being near him. He called me names."

"I have written my old friend 'Love' in Pennsylvania. I asked him if he was willing to embrace me again. He answered he would come to Providence, and he did. After fifteen days we took flight. We are going to Italy."

"Tell Montagna that he was sore on Pasquale and he bought the revolver for two persons. Tell Montagna the boy is his son and I left him to him. The girl is my daughter, and I took her with me."

"It is your fault, sister, because you made me marry this man. He never loved me as a true wife, but as a woman thrown on the street, and I have never been that. From your indecent sister."

"AMMINA."

Mills said that there was "plenty of gossip" about the choir of the Church of St. John the Evangelist. Mills said that he had seen a facsimile of Dr. Hall's handwriting and that it was similar to the handwriting in the letters received by Mrs. Hall.

"But I still have every confidence in my wife and Dr. Hall," added Mills. "There may have been friendship between them, but I believe that it was only friendship of the mind. I am convinced that my wife did not do anything wrong."

Mills said that he was convinced that a woman either committed the crime or inspired it.

DEED OF A WOMAN.

"I believe it was a woman's deed," said Mills. "It was jealousy and I believe that my wife's throat cut as spite against her singing."

"All these theories about black-mail and robbery are rot. It was jealousy."

Mills said that when he met Mrs. Hall about 8:30 on the morning following the murder she said nothing about having notified the police that her husband was missing.

Although Mills said that the words "foul play" and "suspicion" were used in his conversation with Mrs. Hall on the 15th of September, Mrs. Hall emphatically denied this.

Mills said he had gone to the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist about 2:30 p. m. the morning of September 15 to look for his wife, but failed to get any trace of her.

Mills said that he saw Mrs. Hall at the church about 8:30 in the morning of September 15.

MRS. HALL WAS CALM.

"The first thing she asked me was whether anyone had been sick at my house the night before," declared Mills.

"She stayed there with me only a minute or two. At once she came to my home and climbed the steps. I told her that I had not heard anything and she said she had not heard anything, either. Then she went away."

"Mrs. Hall is wrong when she says she did not come to my home about 8:30 in the afternoon of that same day. I remember I had got a piece of ice and had just started to put it in the refrigerator when Mrs. Hall arrived. I saw her again about 7 o'clock in the evening. I went to her home and asked her if she had any news."

She said she had not. I stayed upon the porch and talked. She did not seem to take the thing as hard as I did. I had an idea that Dr. Hall and my wife had love together, but I did not think there was anything wrong. I don't know why I ever suggested in document or what made it come to mind."

Mrs. Hall denied the statement of Mrs. Jane Gibson that they had met at a rummage sale, saying:

"I have never seen her."

She said she would be willing to confront her if it became necessary.

With a single exception, Mrs. Hall answered questions in a simple, quiet, unemotional manner. He reportedly, she went over the story of her movements on the night the Rev. Mr. Hall and his father-in-law, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills were mysteriously slain.

STILL AN ENIGMA.

Q.—Mrs. Hall, do you think it is tremendously important, from a legal standpoint, that you discover whether your husband actually

ONE AMERICAN KILLED, 1 HURT, BY TURKS

Continued From First Page

According to a cablegram from Athens to the Greek Legation. The message says all Greeks who remained in Almyra and on the islands of Mochonisi have been massacred and that wells are filled with the bodies of girls who drowned themselves to escape the Turks. Christians in Smyrna between the ages of eighteen and fifty have been deported, hundreds dying.

Athens, Nov. 2.—Joseph R. Apudis of Jersey City, the Near East relief worker seriously injured in a recent attack by bandits on a relief party near Aleppo, in which James Lester Wright of Waukegan, Wis., another Near East relief worker, was killed, is recovering in a hospital in Beirut, a telegram announced.

Wright's death was instantaneous. Details of the encounter show, a bullet struck the neck severing the spinal cord. Apudis received a fragment of a bullet in the leg. Dr. Milley and his wife, the other Americans in the party, were unhurt.

The attack occurred in French territory. The bandits, Turkish irregulars, fired a volley into the Near East Relief column without warning. In the column were 200 children, half Greek and half Armenian, being conveyed from Harput to Aleppo. They had already escaped unharmed through attacks inside Turkish territory. The children have been handed over to the care of American representatives.

The trip was difficult, owing to bad roads, and three of the children died on the way as the result of hardships.

Doubt That Sultan Will Be Dethroned

Paris, Nov. 2 (By the Associated Press).—Latest reports to official quarters here from Ankara, seat of the Turkish Nationalist Government, indicate the heated session of the National Assembly now under way will probably result in the adoption of a measure depriving the Sultan of all civil authority.

Official quarters doubt the Nationalists will actually depose the Sultan, but believe he will be retained for the religious significance of his office. It is explained that, through circumstances following the World War, the Sultan has long since ceased to exercise any real civil power.

CUTS THROAT WITH RAZOR IN HIS CELL

Springfield, Nov. 2.—Fred J. Love, a stationary fireman, was found dying in his cell at police headquarters today, his wounds severe and a bloody razor lying at his side. He was under arrest for being drunk. He was before Judge Healy in District Court today, but was unable to talk coherently, and the judge ordered him taken back to his cell. Half an hour later the janitor saw Love lying in a pool of blood on the floor of the cell. It is thought he accepted the razor in his shoe.

PLEAS OF MOTHER, WIFE, SAVE ACCUSED

Springfield, Nov. 2.—A mother's love and a wife's devotion were pleaded in district court today when Mrs. Maud Stiner, the mother of No. 10 Appleton street, Boston, and Mrs. Ernest W. Stiner, the wife, also of Boston, pleaded for leniency for Ernest W. Stiner, former B. U. student, charged with larceny. Stiner was placed on probation for one year. Stiner was charged with larceny. He promised to get a job, to support his mother for $446 she had paid as restitution, and contribute to the support of his wife and five-year-old child.

SUPPRESSED

by the

JAPANESE GOVERNMENT

Next Monday

Nov. 6th, the

Boston American

will begin the great international novel

Fileene's Automatic Bargain BASEMENT

Did you ever see so many girls' coats? A collection that rarely brings such an abundance of savings—FRIDAY at 9 A.M.

1048 girls' coats for $9 every girl 7 to 19 years 67 styles 16 shades

- 562 coats FUR TRIMMED
- 77 plain velour coats, $9
 - 56 fur collar or plain Bolivia coats, $9
 - 45 good silk lined velour and other coats, $9
 - 204 fur collar Polo coats, $9
 - 170 plain or double-faced Polo coats, $9
 - 69 very fine sample Pandora & other coats, $9
 - 65 fur collar tweed herringbone coats, $9
 - 113 Plain and fur trimmed mixture coats, $9
 - 14 new grey fur fabric coats, $9
 - 25 good warm leather coats, $9
 - 12 suede lined mixture and other coats, $9
 - 21 soft black plush junior coats, $9

girls' NEW hats

Charming hats in silk, velvet, Persian, head cloth, many with dashes of embroidery or ribbon trimmed. Worship, coming for these good ones.

felt, velvet, duvety, etc.

NO MAIL ORDERS

$9 for satin like Bolivia, silk lined coat, graceful blouse back and fitted dyed opossum collar. SAMPLE COAT.

the keys on your key-ring are worthless without this master key

ALLEN TO TELL OF CORCORAN

Continued From First Page

room, there is to be a mass meeting of the force of District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien, at which there will only be two speakers. Attorney General J. Weston Allen and District Attorney O'Brien.

The oratorical barrage to be laid down by these two public men will be directed, it is said, against: Former District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier, of Suffolk county. Former District Attorney William J. Corcoran of Middlesex county.

Incidentally, it is stated that Mr. Allen will give a partial expose of the workings of the Boston black-mail ring, with which Corcoran was connected, and which is now in the courts, with several men and women under indictment.

Corcoran several months ago made a confession to Mr. Allen. It has been jealously guarded by the Attorney-General up to this time.

Whether the Attorney-General will read the confession in full, or merely give a synopsis of it, is not known. It is declared the purpose of the meeting is to blast once and for all whatever hopes Pelletier may have to come back to public life.

Efforts are being made today to secure Tremont Temple for the meeting. If these are unsuccessful, the largest available hall in the most central part of Boston will be engaged.

Always welcome

Whether it is a turkey dinner or an every day dinner, there is always room for a luscious portion of Heinz Fig Pudding. Delicious, light, wholesome and easy to digest, it is always good—and always good for you. Most people prefer it served with the special sauce, recipe for which is on the can.

HEINZ FIG PUDDING

CHERRY BLOSSOM KINGDOM

Read what the Japanese think of women—and how they treat them.

Begin it Monday

BOSTON AMERICAN

Today

Tired, Poisoned Men
Good Tory "Argument"
An Honest Suicide
If We All Served

By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1922, by Star Company

TIED BUSINESS MAN, this is for you. Dr. Ochsner of Chicago, very wise, says your trouble is "accumulation of poisons in the digestive material. Cumulative diseases are piling up, but accumulating fatigue poisons are not.

Poisons accumulate in the system and stay there, as does mercury when foolish people take it for medicine. More rest than work off of the poison, it must be got rid of. And it takes at least two weeks of work to unload one week's poison accumulation.

What comes on slowly must go away slowly.

IN their fight for power and against Lloyd George the British Tories have developed one ingenious idea. They buy Russian politics, give them away at public meetings, saying to the crowd:

"The stuff we are giving you for nothing will be real money until Bolshevism gets control of Russia. Vote for labor and you will get Bolshevism and money like this."

You may call it a feeble argument, but it will make votes.

The honest shilling there and the hundred-cent dollar here, possess elegance unknown to other political arguments.

ENGLAND still looks to aristoocracy for guidance. Bonar

Laws' new cabinet includes two

Dukes, three Marquises, four

Earls, three Viscounts, and several other sons of peers.

Labor candidates ridicule this noisy assemblage, but England still loves a lord.

YOU have read almost everything about salesmen, from the philosopher that lumped into a volcano's mouth to the New Jersey man tired of dressing and undressing every day—but this is new.

Mrs. Currie Kinball, discovered, killed herself with gas in Paris, N. J., and left a dollar bill to help the family pay for the gas. "Enclosed is a dollar bill for the gas I used."

Those were the honest suicides' last words. May the filly a word better than this at the end of their gas journey.

THE Northern Kansas Telephone & Power Company says to employees: "Save part of your money for your job."

The plan works well. Every employee must save 10 per cent. Many save 30 per cent. It sounds ideal as far as that group is concerned, but suppose everybody saved and became independent at

THE WEATHER

Boston and vicinity: Cloudy, probably fair tonight and Friday, a very light rain Saturday. Moderate south to southeast winds. Sea calm at 6:15 A. M.; at 6:30 P. M. High tide at 9:15 A. M.; 9:45 P. M. Low tide at 3:15 A. M.; 3:45 P. M. Barometer, 41 at 7 A. M.; 41.7 at 7 P. M. Light air velocity at 3:30 P. M.

BOSTON AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

BOSTON, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1922

COMPLETE STOCKS

LYNN MAN'S SHOP ATTACKED BY KU KLUX

ORGANIZE JUNIOR KLAN SCHOOLS

Shoe City Police Investigate Activities of Masked Leaders

Rumors of Ku Klux Klan activities and the forming of a junior Klan by high school students in Lynn, were brought to a head today, when Max Schwartz, a tailor of No. 65 Lawton avenue, Lynn, complained to the police that he had been threatened by the Ku Klux, and exhibited a message ordering him to leave Lynn and return to Russia.

According to Schwartz's story, he was sitting in his tailor shop when a message, wrapped around a stone, was thrown in his door. He picked up the message and read: "K. K. You miserable Jew, we have stood your kind long enough. You dirty foreigner. Go back to Russia where you belong. You are not wanted here."

Schwartz went to the door and saw four young men a short distance away from his shop. They started to run, but Schwartz says he caught up with them. They denied throwing the stone.

He recognized the four youths as neighbors of his, and declares they are all high school students in Lynn. He gave the following names to the police as the names of the four boys: Charles Marston, No. 519 Essex street, Arthur English, No. 65 Lawton avenue, Robert Goss, No. 61 Lawton avenue, and Louis Bennett, No. 115 High Rock street.

THE police will question the youths to ascertain whether the Klan is operating activities in Lynn, and how far the forming of a Klan in Lynn high schools has gone.

For several weeks rumors have been rife that a Junior organization of the Ku Klux was assuming threatening proportions throughout Lynn high school, but this is the first report of any activities against any Lynn residents.

Klan Threatens Hub Negro Legislator

Ku Klux Klan threats have been made upon the life of Matthew W. Bullock, the old Lanesboro football player.

Bullock, colored, and candidate for the House from Roxbury, has declined to put a fine and imprisonment on anyone who joins the Klan, he said today he had received anonymous threats from all parts of the country, especially from the South.

One letter from Atlanta, Ga., head quarters of the Klan, says: "You should come down to the country—somewhere in Alabama or Georgia—to make your wishes known. We would handle your proposed legislation in the way it should be handled. There is only one place for your kind and that is dead."

Another, from Chattanooga, contained the newspaper clipping of Bullock's bill, and the words: "We got your number."

Bullock says he's not afraid.

Victim Identifies the Mysterious Mary Girl at Melrose Revels Places Two Women Witnesses for Inquiry

MRS. MARY O'LEARY RAAB

Alibi: Unpublished photograph of young woman who charges she was victim of woman's jealousy at party in Melrose.

MRS. RAAB VISITS SCENE OF PRESTON MURDER

Continued From First Page

When the woman was shot down, at Melrose, she was the victim of woman's jealousy at party in Melrose.

She was the victim of woman's jealousy at party in Melrose.

She was the victim of woman's jealousy at party in Melrose.

She was the victim of woman's jealousy at party in Melrose.

She was the victim of woman's jealousy at party in Melrose.

She was the victim of woman's jealousy at party in Melrose.

She was the victim of woman's jealousy at party in Melrose.

Mrs. Paul Freed in Love Tangle

Mrs. Paul.

Postal Employee Gives Record of Coupon Transactions Covering Several Years

From out of the ranks of government witnesses today came Albert R. Collins of Kewbridge, Md., employee of the Division of Stamps, Postmaster-General's Department, to testify as to Charles Fong's dealings in international reply coupons.

As Mr. Collins stepped to the stand few of the spectators attached any significance to this mild mannered man. But when William Flaherty, special assistant attorney general, asked, "Do you handle all reply coupons from postmasters all over the United States?" there was such an audible gasp that court officers glanced about the court chamber.

Mr. Collins today is playing the role of star in the trial of the "school street witness" who is accused by Attorney General Alton of the larceny of several million dollars.

Dispar Mr. Fong told the world two things, namely, that he was the "third greatest Italian," and that he "made great profit in international reply coupons."

Both statements were widely quoted.

So when Mr. Collins began to tell of his handling of these same coupons with which Mr. Fong amassed an uncountable number of dollars.

He began by saying that he had been in the postal service since 1904, and that he had been in the postal service since 1904.

POSTAL EMPLOYEE GIVES RECORD OF COUPON TRANSACTIONS COVERING SEVERAL YEARS

From out of the ranks of government witnesses today came Albert R. Collins of Kewbridge, Md., employee of the Division of Stamps, Postmaster-General's Department, to testify as to Charles Fong's dealings in international reply coupons.

As Mr. Collins stepped to the stand few of the spectators attached any significance to this mild mannered man. But when William Flaherty, special assistant attorney general, asked, "Do you handle all reply coupons from postmasters all over the United States?" there was such an audible gasp that court officers glanced about the court chamber.

Mr. Collins today is playing the role of star in the trial of the "school street witness" who is accused by Attorney General Alton of the larceny of several million dollars.

Dispar Mr. Fong told the world two things, namely, that he was the "third greatest Italian," and that he "made great profit in international reply coupons."

Both statements were widely quoted.

So when Mr. Collins began to tell of his handling of these same coupons with which Mr. Fong amassed an uncountable number of dollars.

He began by saying that he had been in the postal service since 1904, and that he had been in the postal service since 1904.

He began by saying that he had been in the postal service since 1904, and that he had been in the postal service since 1904.

He began by saying that he had been in the postal service since 1904, and that he had been in the postal service since 1904.

He began by saying that he had been in the postal service since 1904, and that he had been in the postal service since 1904.

He began by saying that he had been in the postal service since 1904, and that he had been in the postal service since 1904.

He began by saying that he had been in the postal service since 1904, and that he had been in the postal service since 1904.

MRS. CLARK ACCUSES FILMSTAR

Mother of Dancer Files New Action Against Herbert Rawlinson

Mrs. Clark.

Mother of Dancer Files New Action Against Herbert Rawlinson

Mother of Dancer Files New Action Against Herbert Rawlinson

Mother of Dancer Files New Action Against Herbert Rawlinson

Mother of Dancer Files New Action Against Herbert Rawlinson

Mother of Dancer Files New Action Against Herbert Rawlinson

Mother of Dancer Files New Action Against Herbert Rawlinson

Mother of Dancer Files New Action Against Herbert Rawlinson

Mother of Dancer Files New Action Against Herbert Rawlinson

WINS DIVORCE

Mrs. Grace H. Paul.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

Winstown wife who won freedom today from husband on grounds of alleged cruelty in love tangle that involved two families.

DIVORCES MATE AS CRUEL

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Husband Fails to Contest Case That Involves the Domestic Peace of Two Families

Where Dollars Count Most for Buyer and Seller

In the "For Sale" columns of the Boston American.

Buyers will find here a variety of good merchandise—furniture, household appliances, musical instruments, and many other things both new and used. You can save money by buying here.

The Seller will find that good merchandise, new and used, advertised here will bring buyers more promptly and make quicker sales than through any other selling agency in Boston.

Let the merchandise you have for sale, and send the list to the "For Sale" columns of the Boston American. Main 5180

Interest Begins NOV. 10

Every Friday between 9:30 and 2:30

Our Budget Expert is here to help you plan Your Home Budget.

Call any Friday. Her services are free and confidential.

Home Savings Bank

INCORPORATED 1912

100 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

SKIRTS THAT HARMONIZE WITH SWEATERS

Jays

BOSTON TEMPLE PLACE ELEVEN

For a distinctive coat, come to Jays

All of our coats are selected separately, one by one, not purchased in lots of so many of this style, so many of that. For this reason each coat has its own "personality," and lends an air of distinction to the wearer.

The other day one of our customers said of our sweaters, "Where do you get them—are they made specially for you? I find nothing like them elsewhere." Come in and let us show you our sweaters, and see how reasonable the prices are.

On the first floor—blouses, scarfs, sweaters; on the second floor—suits, coats, dresses; on the third floor—suits, coats, wraps, skirts.

CHELSEA MAN DIES, VICTIM OF MOONSHINE

Another victim of poisonous liquor was found today in Chelsea, the Timothy McDonald of No. 27 Spencer avenue, Chelsea. He was found dead at No. 108 Ash street. His body was taken to Chelsea Hospital, where death was said to be due to bad liquor. He leaves a wife and one son.

Jury Raises Fund for Woman Who Deserted Baby

New York, Nov. 2.—Called on to indict Jess's Bauman, 29 years old, for the abandonment of her eight-week-old baby, a Grand Jury heard her story of misery, raised a fund of $50 for her, and set her free today with the promise of further aid. The woman said she had worked day and night as a scrub-woman and her husband had taken her money to spend on liquor. She said she decided the only way to save the baby from a life of degradation was to abandon it.

FATE OF GIRL SLAYER STILL WITH JURY

Cleveland, Nov. 2.—The jury, in whose hands rests the fate of Mrs. Maclod, charged with the murder of her husband, returned today a verdict for the first degree murder of Thomas A. O'Connell, New Haven, Ct., carnival promoter, resumed its deliberations today after spending a night locked up in a hotel. Mrs. Maclod spent a restless night in her cell in county jail. She was awake practically all night, jail attendants declared, and was more nervous than at any time since her incarceration last July when she was arrested following the shooting of O'Connell in a downtown restaurant. O'Connell was shot during a scuffle with Maclod's husband, the jury heard. Mrs. Maclod testified that she had fired the shot which killed O'Connell, but declared that the shooting was accidental. The case went to the jury shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. In charging the jury, Judge Derron declared it could return one of five verdicts—first degree murder, first degree murder with a recommendation for mercy, second degree murder, manslaughter or acquittal.

DAY'S NEWS IN JAZZ TIME

By Morton Birge

His name is Fish, three women claim he hooked them in the marriage game. There'll be a fish of scrodded fish, the wives in wrath are crying. The postal service gets three cheers; a letter gone eleven years. There'll be a dish of scrodded fish, the wives in wrath are crying. It gives gas pleasure to report on Judge McCool of Proctor Court: From office top—his first employer—he rose to high position. Now Maclod, Milroy, Medford fight the charges for electric light; Consumers say the price they pay is much like imposition. From Lawrence stage-struck "flappers" room; if found they'll quickly be sent home. And made to wait till later date before they start career. Twaes over this once time began; in Effield wealthy See-ctman Pays money to slick of dangers who go quickly disappearing. As the world goes round and round. In the "GLEREN" the news is found.

How To STYLISHLY CORSET A STOUT WOMAN

O'r facilities for stout or near stout women are complete. Immediate and courteous attention. Fitting rooms on main floor. Don't wait your limited time shopping—you will be sure to get the style and size you want at Housen's. Largest and most complete stocks in Boston. Corsets, Brassieres, Bandeaux and Girdles. All Standard Corsets—Lowest Prices. Mme. Binner, Stylish Stouts, Nemo Corsets, Bon Ton, Warner's R. & G. Bien Jolie, Mme. Lyra, P. N. Practical Front, Elastic Front, American Lady, Royal Worcester.

Housen's CORSET SERVICE
63 Temple Place
Through to Washington Street

Houghton & Dutton Company
Tremont and Beacon Streets, Boston 9, Mass. We Give and Redeem Legal Stamps

10 SPECIAL BARGAINS For Friday Only

LOOK FOR THE RED SIGNS

Kaltex Rockers
11.98

Genuine Kaltex wired fibre rocker, closely woven, with comfortable back and deep, comfortable spring seat, covered in best grade cretonne. Chair to match same price.

FIFTH FLOOR

Men's Felt Slippers
1.19

For men who are on their feet a good deal of the day these slippers will be a relief to slip on in the evening. Brown and gray, with soft padded soles and heels, all sizes, will give good service.

STREET FLOOR

Gas Cookers Dangler Brand
18.63

White enamel drop door, 3 star removable burner, 18-inch oven with broiler, white broiler pan and white enamel tray. This ridiculously low price is possible through a remarkable purchase.

BASEMENT

Storm Serge
77c Yd.

A serviceable, firmly woven cotton and wool mixed fabric, suitable for dresses, skirts, and children's school wear, in navy, black, brown and open. 42 inches wide.

STREET FLOOR

Dinner Sets
12.00

Fine American semi-porcelain, dainty floral spray decoration, service for eight people, including all the large useful pieces, covered dish, platters, etc.

BASEMENT

Pottery Boudoir Lamps
2.79

Very latest design, mounted on a black base, fitted with cord and plug, 7-inch silk shade, trimmed with fancy braid to match, in old rose, yellow or orchid.

SECOND FLOOR

Boys' Tan Scout Shoes
1.65

All solid leather throughout, built to give unusually long service. Just the shoe for boys who play hard, also for school wear.

STREET FLOOR

Mass. Plaid Blankets
2.45 Pr.

3000 pairs, size 60x70, in a large variety of beautiful colorings; choice of plaids or checks, braid bound. First quality.

STREET FLOOR

Attractive Jointed Dolls
2.29

22-inch, full jointed, moving eyes and curled wig, with shoes and stockings. Excellent for Christmas gift giving.

FOURTH FLOOR

Ruffled Serin Curtains
1.25 Pr.

Fine black & tan, full narrow ruffles and tie-backs. An excellent quality that far exceeds what you would expect at this low price.

FOURTH FLOOR

TO OFFER REWARD FOR MILLIS MAN

Millis, Nov. 2.—Millis police will offer a reward for the finding of John Ackerman, Millis resident and owner of a restaurant on Portland street, Boston. The police say he came here a week ago and left his auto near the Charles River. He has not been seen since. The river has been dragged, but without success. The State constabulary of Framingham has been suing in the search.

MAN CONFESSES TO KIDNAPING GIRL OF 11

(Copyright, 1922, by International News Service)

Mustang, Mich., Nov. 2.—Raymond E. Wilson, forty-one, of Grand Rapids, Mich., confessed to the abduction and attack upon eleven-year-old Romel Rhany to a police officer here today after an all night grilling. Though he is not the richest man in the world yet, coming next to Rockefeller, it looks as though he would eventually be the richest, and independent of everything but old Father Time. You can't escape him or buy him out. And Ford, although he doesn't know it, and wouldn't believe anybody that told him, lives in a way that will cut many years from time that he might have.

THE cost that Ford will probably buy for fifteen million dollars, amounts to one hundred and eighty million tons underground. It is coal most easily mined, no tunnels, the ground is stripped off and coal is scooped out by steam shovels. At five dollars a ton it would be worth one hundred million dollars; so fifteen millions is a reasonable price and shows that coal mining must sometimes be profitable.

PRESIDENT HARDING will offer a prize for any "practical, concrete suggestions for collecting the foreign debts." That suggestion ought to be worth about nine thousand million dollars, since we shall probably lose about ten thousand millions on the deal. The public would offer a prize for a "concrete, practical suggestion" to keep the United States out of the League of Nations, out of foreign entanglements, and out of leading any more money abroad.

WILLIAM HOHENZOLLERN will give his new wife a diamond and sapphire, worth eight hundred million marks. A good deal of money even yet, more than 100,000 real dollars. His new wife will be called "Imperial Majesty," but unlike the diamonds, the title will not be real. Germans from whom the money for the diamonds came can afford that. But they could not afford any more "Imperial Majesty." It will take them a long time to recover from that high sounding title.

The Hand in the Dark!

AROUSING in the night, perhaps half awake, a father or mother goes to the family medicine shelf. A headache tablet is wanted, or one of the children may need a simple cough syrup. Bichloride of mercury or some other poisonous antiseptic is picked up by mistake. The result is death.

In addition to these night time mistakes, youngsters like to meddle with bottles. They cannot read the poison label. To the eyes of a child the skull and crossbones stamp is only a funny picture. Bichloride tablets look like nice white candy. The coal tar and cresote compounds are just the color of soda pop or the sweet medicine that mother gives in a spoon. The child's curiosity must be satisfied. Could there be a more pitiful tragedy than this?

These are accidents due to poisonous antiseptics in the home. Statistics prove that they are of daily occurrence, but for every case where poison is taken by mistake, there are twenty cases where it is taken intentionally. A love sick boy or girl, a tired, nervous woman, a despondent man has a sudden impulse toward self-destruction. It is only temporary loss of self-control. It would be gone in an hour. But the means is at hand—a deadly poison. The impulse is followed, to be regretted perhaps ten seconds too late.

Get Rid of Poisons!

Rid your home of poisons today. It was impossible to do so in the past because there was nothing to take their place. This is no longer true. Zonite, a perfected form of the world-famous var antiseptic, can now be used by the general public. It is far more efficient than the poisonous antiseptics and has a hundred uses in every home.

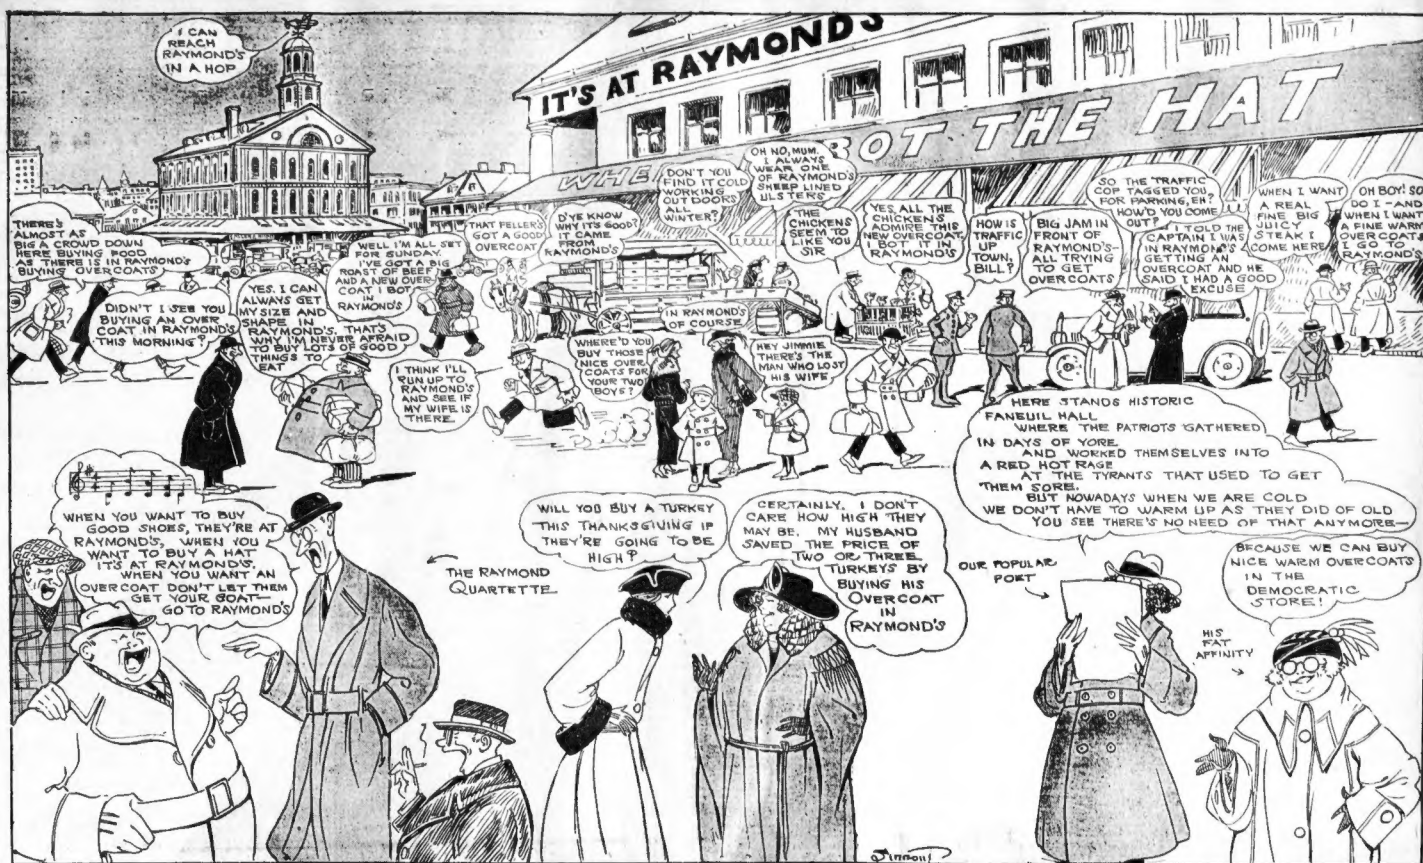

This "magic fluid" is

- the ONE perfect antiseptic, disinfectant and deodorant
- forty times as powerful as the pleasant-tasting "mild antiseptics"
- more than twice as powerful as pure carbolic acid
- forty times as powerful as safe solutions of poisonous antiseptics
- yet it is gentle, harmless, healing to tender skin, flesh and membrane.

Zonite
REGISTERED PATENT OFFICE
The Greatest of ALL Antiseptics
Copyright 1922—Zonite Products Co.

Notice to Physicians:
Zonite, with an equal amount of water, makes a Carrel-Dakin solution. No rinsing required. Zonite has distinct advantages over Carrel-Dakin's fluid. It is stable, concentrated and ready for immediate use.

'NUTHER SHOE STOCK

From a Mail Order Shoe House

Lot of Enduro-Johnson's black lace boots for men, wide and narrow toots, all Goodyear welts; sizes mostly eight to ten 2.95
 MORE men's dark mahogany, narrow and medium toe, lace blucher and bala for men; all sizes and Goodyear welts 2.95
 Some swell, heavy, double soles, men's winter oxford, dark mahogany, wide and medium toe;
 all warranted and Goodyear welts 5.00
 Lot of men's black, very dressy lace boots, all Goodyear welts, narrow toes, also some mahogany uppers; wide and narrow toes; expensive makes; most worn with rubber heels 3.95
 Lot of boys' lace bluchers, wide and medium toes; all solid; good for school 1.95
 Lot of children's lace boots, brown and black, sizes up to ten, and boys' goodforschool 1.45
 Lot of women's lace boots and oxford, low Cuban heels 1.95

BOYS' CLOTHING

More Boys' Overcoats, Mackinaws and Sheep-Lined Coats

Big Lot, Boys' Wool Mackinaws, heavy dark dyes! 10 to 18 sizes	4.95
Lot Large Size Mackinaws, 16 to 18 only	3.25
More Boys' Sheep-Lined Coats
Four pockets, lamb collars, 8 to 18	6.50
Fur collars, clip lined.	8.50
Juvenile Suits for lads 3 to 5. Cor- duroy, Jersey and wool mixtures
Boys' Giletto Pants, 8 to 17 sizes. Pair	2.75
Boys' Sweaters, big lot samples, pull over styles;	1.45
28 to 34	2.25
Boys' Union Suits, lot gray, heavy ribs; all sizes for lads 4 to 16	95c
Boys' Flannel Blouses, yoke back, open cuffs, gray and dark khaki	95c
Shirts, 8 to 18 sizes	1.25
Boys' Stockings, heavy rib, fast break 7 to 11 sizes. Pair	25c

MEN'S UPSTAIRS EASY BASEMENT

Lot Men's Oxford Gray and Blue Reefers, Great stuff	8.00, 9.00, 9.75
Lot Men's 36-inch Sheep-Lined Coats, belted tan moleskin; warmenanything	8.00
More Overalls, More Beach Jackets and Vests, More Long Shop Coats, More Unionalls, More Double Knee Overalls, EASY BASEMENT AND UNCONSTRAINED SILLER

NEWBUNCHSYLVANCRETONNES
Job lot, less 58 pieces fancy printed Sylvan Cretonnes, Yard 17c
34 inches wide, first quality, cut from full pieces . . .

Restall 16-36 inch Fancy Striped Outings, good weight. Yard-wide	20c	Extra fine count, 50 square, Percales, 36 inches wide; fancy stripes and small prints.	18c	36-inch Polka Dot Fowls, highly mercerized, black, navy, brown, etc.	23c	DOWN SULLER - 54-inch Tale Oilcloth, plain white and fancy prints. First quality.	35c
Yard-wide Fancy Printed Rugs, 12x18. Floral, Japanese and kindergarten designs.	20c	Poplins, etc.; tucks, tan, capen, pink, etc.; cut from full pieces.	25c	Double Throated Bleached Turkish Toweling, full 38 inch wide, 100% cotton, 16 full pieces.	38c	DOWN SULLER - 54-inch aqua Heavy Placca Black Table Oilcloth, 100% cotton, first quality.	75c
Strictly all-wool 27-inch Flannel Shirts, scarlet, navy blue, and gray mixed.	75c	Jennine Indian Hosiery, 38-40, first cut cut from full bolts.	25c	Clover Brand Pillow Cases, 36x54, 100% cotton, serviceable cotton.	20c	DOWN SULLER - 45-inch Tale Oilcloth, plain white and fancy prints.	25c
Yard-wide Fancy Printed Rugs, 12x18. Floral, Japanese and kindergarten designs.	20c	Yard-wide 36-inch Crash Frocking, even and broken checks in red and blue.	25c	Fancy 36-inch Pillow Cases, num hemstitched, with 36-inch and 38-inch of 'em. Each.	50c	DOWN SULLER - First quality water proofed, 54-inch Shades, all colors, plenty dark greens.	50c

OVERCOATS $20 $15
OVERCOATS $25
OVERCOATS
OVERCOATS
OVERCOATS $30 $35
OVERCOATS $40

RADIO

For Better Results
USE EVEREADY
"A & B" BATTERIES with your radio set

Westinghouse WD-11 Vacuum Tubes operate best when used in connection with Columbia Dry Batteries

—they last longer

See our exhibit at Boston Radio Exposition
MECHANICS BUILDING
National Carbon Company, Inc.

TAKE SOUTH END SUSPECT AFTER LONG CHASE

Language street police station "Left hand" will determine whether two young men captured early today operate with a gang of thieves who have looted small clothing houses and tailor shops in the South End district.

Paul D. Johnson, twenty-two years old of 81, Bolshoi street, Buck Bay, a professional boxer, and Joseph Shepherd, twenty-one, of Broadway, Oklahoma, are the pair under arrest. Both were booked for breaking and entering the tailor shop of Maurice Lutz, No. 218 Columbus avenue.

Sergeant Sullivan, with patrolman Guthrie, spotted two young men bending under the weight of large bundles they were carrying. Both had come out of the alley adjoining the place.

Shepherd dropped the bundle and ran. Guthrie chased him through side streets to Tremont street before catching him. Shepherd carried a revolver.

Included in the goods recovered were fifty coats, eight pairs of trousers and several women's dresses.

Is This Your Teacher

46

Is this your teacher? He teaches English at his school. He graduated from Wesleyan in 1906.

Formerly taught in New York Military Academy, Detroit University.

Has been in present school for seven years.

Who is he? See tomorrow's paper.

No. 46—Joseph Green of the English High School.

T. D. CUYLER, R. R. DIRECTOR, FOUND DEAD

Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—Thomas Dewitt Cuyler, director of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and chairman of the Railroad Executive's Association, was found dead today in the private car of the Pennsylvania Railway, in the Broad Street station.

Mr. Cuyler, one of the most conspicuous railroad men of the United States, was in Rochester, N. Y., yesterday and was apparently in good health.

Apoplexy was the cause of his death.

Mr. Cuyler was of Dutch ancestry. He was born in 1874, and was graduated from Yale in 1894, and was admitted to the practice of law in Philadelphia in 1897.

He was largely interested in many of the great transportation companies, and was a director of the Pennsylvania, the Michigan, the Ohio & Santa Fe, the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, the Long Island and the Maine Central railroads, the New England Navigation Company, the New England Steamship Company, and the International Railway of Buffalo.

SUNDAY, JR.'S PARTY PROBED BY NAVY

Washington, Nov. 2.—The Navy Department has asked for complete details of the alleged wild party in the Las Vegas homes of William A. Sunday, Jr., son of the evangelist, in which several navy officers are said to have participated before leaving the city for an extensive trip. Secretary Denby ordered the Judge-advocate-general of the navy to conduct an inquiry and take such action as may be deemed suitable.

14-K Gold Signet Ring $10

Illustrated is a signet ring of good weight 14-k green gold, octagon top, panelled sides with hand-engraved design. May be engraved with monogram or single letter. Exceptional value at $10.

Many other styles in solid gold Signet Rings, $5. to $35. Comparison of prices invited.

Smith Patterson Co.
Summer St.-at Arch & Chauncy Sts.
DIAMOND MERCHANTS AND JEWELERS

LORD & CO. XMAS

Player $ DEPOSIT
Piano Club
Call Friday or Saturday

Store Open Both Nights Until 9 P. M.

Do Not Delay—Call at Once

Complete Club Outfit Including Brand New 88-Note Player-Piano, Beautiful Cabinet to Match, Durable Player Bench, 38 Music Rolls (Your Selection) ALL FREE

$345

START MONTHLY PAYMENTS NEXT YEAR

These Privileges Free to Club Members Only

- 1—New $550 88-Note Chandler Player-Piano for $345
- 2—Easy Weekly or Monthly Terms
- 3—Handsome Music Roll Cabinet Free (Illustrated)
- 4—Durable Bench Free (Illustrated)
- 5—38 Music Rolls Free (Your Own Selection)
- 6—Special Club Benefits in Case of Sickness, Unemployment, Etc.
- 7—No Club Dues or Delivery Charges
- 8—12 Month Free Service and Tuning
- 9—Liberal Allowance for Your Upright Piano or Phonograph
- 10—Long Written Guarantee

New 88-Note Fully Guaranteed XMAS PLAYER-PIANOS

These new, full-size CHANDLER PLAYER-PIANOS were not made to sell for so little money. This price gives you no idea of their real value. They are high-grade players sold by us at a very low price because of the volume of business we do. Now is the time to make your selection for immediate or future delivery. We do not believe this offer can be equalled for less than $550.00 elsewhere.

Now is the time to place an order for your CHRISTMAS PLAYER-PIANO for either immediate or later delivery. The number of Players we are able to offer in this PLAYER-PIANO CLUB is limited and as soon as our allotment is gone we will have to withdraw this offer. These players are new 1923 MODELS. They are plain design and artistic and contain all the late improvements.

Story & Clark Player-Pianos, $625 to $775
Known the World Over as "Quality Instruments." Include All Club Privileges.

Lord & Co.
757 Boylston Street
Boston, Mass.
Just Beyond Copley Square

Store Open FRIDAY and SATURDAY Till 9 P. M.

WAR HERO TO CHALLENGE MUSSOLINI

London, Nov. 2 (By International News Service)—Austria and Jugoslavia are massing troops on the Italian frontier, according to unofficial reports received here.

Rome, Nov. 2 (By the Associated Press)—The authority, energy and astuteness with which Premier Mussolini has taken hold has created a deep impression.

His "imperative" instructions to Count Storck to remain in Paris until he had reached a decision in the cases of ambassadors who offered to resign, and his circular to the prefects "exact" their utmost collaboration were regarded as a strong indication of the method the new government is going to use.

TO QUIZ MUSSOLINI.

It is certain the Storck incident will be well aired. Deputy Italian Finance Minister, Nannolini, has already served notice he will interrogate Mussolini as to what means the government intends to adopt against the ambassador to Paris "for having accomplished a net detrimental to the country and offensive to the King and the head of the government."

During the war, when a captain in the navy, Paulucci swam his Austrian harbor ship, dragging a floating mine after him, and blew up the Austrian dreadnaught Viribus Unitis. He is now at the head of 100,000 Nationalists militarily organized and boasting that they are always ready.

Ambassador Storck Withdraws Resignation

Paris, Nov. 2 (By International News Service)—Count Storck has withdrawn his resignation as Italian ambassador to France. It was announced today. He had been previously that he was opposed to the policies of the new French government at Rome.

BEAUTIFUL ACTRESS FREE WITH KISSES

Montreal, Nov. 2.—Cecil Sorel, famous French beauty and actress, says she has not enough kisses to go around.

But when members of the Montreal film club clamored for her services Cecil turned her arms about the chairman, Dr. C. Desjardins, and then after J. G. Casgrain, both helped themselves to kisses freely. Cecil said: "My reception in Canada has been so hearty that my attention is being attracted by my admirers in French terms. I wish I could kiss you."

But Cecil showed her heart was in the right place by waving kisses in all directions.

H. B. GOODRICH, SHOE MANUFACTURER, DEAD

Haverhill, Nov. 2.—Hans B. Goodrich, a Civil War veteran, shoemaker and his family also for Woodmont Wilson and family during their stay at the White House.

Leaving Phillips Andover, Mr. Goodrich went into the army and on his return in 1865 became a book keeper for his father, senior of the firm of Goodrich and Porter. Later he became a salesman and put the Goodrich shoe in all markets of the world.

LaTouraine Coffee

—and it tastes just as good as it smells!

W. S. QUINBY CO. BOSTON-CHICAGO. 45¢ PER L.B.

"ITS IN THE BEAN"

Let HAINES Solve Your Stove Problem

DOWN

Delivers Any Stove - Range or Heater

The Largest Assemblage of Stoves, Ranges and Heaters in New England Awaits Your Inspection. All Guaranteed Stoves Made by New England's Leading Foundries at Haines. You Will Find Stoves of Every Description. Note the Remarkable Values Listed Below. Any Stove Delivered to Your House on a Payment of $1.00.

ONE YEAR SERVICE CERTIFICATE GIVEN FREE WITH EVERY STOVE

Haines FURNITURE CO.

726-728-730 Washington St.

Large Oak Range
Delivers a wonderful oak cabinet gas range, guaranteed to be a perfect baker and a fuel saver. Only $45

Cabinet Gas Range
Delivers a guaranteed cabinet gas range, with large oven and four burners. One of New England's greatest $34 values. Only

Oak Heater
Delivers a splendid oak heater. This stove burns anything; has heavy cast iron base and $14.95 sheet metal body.

Oak Heater Bargain
This oak heater will keep several rooms cozy and warm on the coldest day. Easy to regulate and control. This is a $7.50 great value. Only

Parlor Heater
Delivers a very powerful and economical heater with brick lined or cast iron pot. Only $18.50

Gas Heater
Deliver this most efficient and sanitary Gas Heater. Well constructed cast iron $2.98 burner.

Laundry Stove
Delivers a two hole cast iron laundry stove. The stove is made of good heavy castings and worth twice this $6.95 sale price. Only

Powerful Oil Heater
Just the Oil Heater you need for the cold winter days. Smokeless $4.98 and odorless. Only

Eight-Piece Queen Anne Period Dining Suite
Delivers any one of these articles to your home. Suite consists of large dining room table, large buffet, five side chairs and one arm chair, upholstered in genuine leather and finished in that very desirable walnut price only $129

Our Economy Four-Room Outfit
Consists of Parlor, Dining Room and Bedroom and Kitchen of high grade period furniture. During this sale only $395

GARLAND FARM FREELY GIVES SHELTER

Being an owner on observations made with the eye of a member of the colony, the paper has been a detailed description of life at the farm. The paper has been a member of the colony since it was first started by Garland and with the idea that it was a complete and self-sufficient community. The paper has been a member of the colony since it was first started by Garland and with the idea that it was a complete and self-sufficient community. The paper has been a member of the colony since it was first started by Garland and with the idea that it was a complete and self-sufficient community.

By THE FIFTEEN.

After breakfast the next morning Henne drove us in a large touring car to get Harriet and take her to her home at Buzzards Bay. There was a slight girl, with rich coloring, in great regularity of feature. She was dressed conventionally. Harriet hurried out to the car. Harriet hurried out to the car. She had no bag, because she had brought nothing with her, sleeping as the rest of the April farmers did in the altogether.

Barley called to Harriet, asking her if she wasn't going to stop for a while. The wife of his millionaire brother, Hamilton, replied that she hadn't a minute; that she had erands to do in town.

Harry's Departure Abrupt

Harry's departure was as abrupt and unceremonious as her arrival. He had come with a copy of Emerson, a copy of the Italian and a Spanish grammar. He had left it in the washroom with Harriet's books. When they both knew, all except the Spanish grammar, she took that with her. If I ever think again of Harry, which is not likely, I shall think of her mumbled Spanish verbs and doing violent exercises.

She had told the girls that she was going, eventually, to New York where a position with a Jewish newspaper awaited her.

That morning I heard a conversation between Alice and Harriet. It peculiarly typified much of the "chicken coop" life of the farm. The girls and Garland kept constantly about life policies, the potato crop, immortal souls, what to feed the calf, psychoanalysis, cranberries and love and dirty stories mixed all in one.

Alice dumping a canister of brown sugar into a huge mass of cranberries: "Does this think this a enough sugar?"

Anna: "Oh, you should not have put the sugar in till after they've been washed. That's what makes the skins tough."

Alice: "Oh, dear me—it is too late to scoop it out!"

Anna: "You might get some of it off the top."

Alice screams off the sugar on the top. Then she patiently spoons out her cranberries, picking them out of the sugar one by one. Half an hour later Anna discovers her that Anna: "Oh, I don't mean you just to get every teeny bit out. Just what you could scrape off the top."

Alice: "I know but I want to do it right. There I guess I've got all out now. I'll leave this canister here to be washed."

Anna: "I don't want to wash it."

Alice: "Of course. It's empty."

Anna: "But it's got sugar in it. It won't wash out."

Alice: "Yes. But oughtn't the old sugar to be washed out? I should think it would get stale."

Anna: "Oh no. It won't. We always dump new sugar in on top of the old."

Alice: "For years?"

Anna: "Well, not for years."

Alice: "Then you do wash the can sometimes."

Life a Problem

And so it goes on. Inevitably these people at April Farm seem to have found out what few of us know: that life is a terrible problem. That's what the girl graduate says. "Life is real life is earnest." But what they don't seem to have discovered yet, is that life is short. Or maybe they don't care.

After lunch I remembered not I too, was going. Alice suggested that I visit a friend of hers in Boston who might be able to help her in some way and another. And Alice sat down and but her face was a letter to a man in New York who might find honest employment for me, in case my wife and I were to New York.

I put on my hat and coat and shook hands with the three girls. Doris kept my hand a moment longer than the others. Her eyes looked through me. She had really been my best friend on the farm, and I think the only one who believed in me.

"Good bye, my friend," she said. "Will you write to me?"

I promised her I would.

Barley stood at the door, his hand outstretched. He too, looked me in the eye as I took his hand.

"Good bye," he said, with a little smile. "Good luck to you."

On the way back to Boston, and food, and warmth, and the comparative leisure of writing these articles, one thought about April Farm remained with me.

It was, that I had been well-treated. That I had been given food and shelter. And that my need for these things had not been questioned.

The theory of brotherly love as frequently aired in Greenwell Village on Beacon Hill, and elsewhere. But one seldom encounters the practical demonstration, as I found it at April Farm.

That, and that only, as far as I could see, is the justification for the name that is often applied to the farm: North Carver way. The Carver "Love Farm" is, in the sense that I have mentioned, all of that.

THE END.

Irish Bagpiper

JOHN TRENNOLME

When the Irish Harp Band is heard at Symphony Hall next Sunday evening in one of the few concerts to be given in the United States during its first tour here, one of the features will be Pipe-Major Trennolme, an expert performer on the Irish bagpipes who is to give forth tunes which have never been written down because of their peculiarities, which cannot be recorded by existing methods of notation.

These tunes, the traditional Irish folk songs and pipe music have preserved since the earliest historic times in Ireland, handing them down from generation to generation. They are tunes which the moving spirit of the Irish music revival hope to use in the creation of a new Irish art music.

Herbert Hughes, the Irish critic who visited this country during the last season, has devoted several years to investigating the origin and history of Irish tunes.

WIVES CAN FIND LESSON IN 'MRS. FAIR'

When James Forbes wrote "The Mrs. Fair," his intention was to revolve a diversion and not a lesson.

However, there is much in a play which is being presented by the Boston Stock Company at the Theatre, to provide food for thought for both young and old, and which is a few lessons to those who are married, or who intend to be married.

Miss Viola Beach, who has read of Mrs. Fair this week at the Theatre, insists that the modern idea is merely a result of the growing independence of woman. She further tells us that the equality of man, which, according to the Bible, includes woman, must stand and therefore what right has the husband to dictate what is to happen in the life and welfare of his better half?

"In Mrs. Fair," she said, "the experiences through which her husband passes make him a better man and in the end, he loves his wife all the more for it. True, in the end Mrs. Fair returns to her family, but only when it has been proved conclusively that they are lost without her."

"In this case, I would say that a wife's obligation is to her family, but in the more modern cooperation we have we find a new position which makes the fatherhood of the mother somewhat burden some. They must prefer to live their own lives as they see fit without mother's helping hand only that she must see that the household is well regulated, that the cook prepares the food most economically and at least to the thousand and one details and drudgeries which have to be done."

Copyright, 1922, Hart Schaffner & Marx

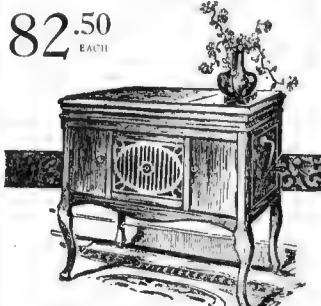

Jordan Marsh Company

The Mercantile Heart of New England

Another Shipment of Our Arvona Phonographs

Offered at the Same Remarkable Price as Quoted on the Last Lot That Sold So Quickly

82.50 EACH

Mahogany finish

These machines are the work of artists, and their character will be appreciated by those who have knowledge of art. Into these rich, decorative and useful pieces of furniture has been built the finest mechanism. Jordan Marsh Company does not hesitate to guarantee that every one will give satisfactory service and perfect tone reproduction. These are interesting features.

Silent Motor High Quality Finish
Perfect Tone Modifier Silent Winding Compartments for Records Plays All Records

These machines may be purchased on our deferred payment plan. Small initial payment and the balance in equal monthly payments.

Copyright, 1922, Hart Schaffner & Marx

Another important reason for good clothes

She likes to see you well dressed; she appreciates good quality and style. You'll both be proud of

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes

The Continental

Franklin at Washington

Boylston at Washington

TWO COMPLETE NEWS SECTIONS, TWO FIRST PAGES, TWO FICTION PAGES, 20 AND 21, TWO PAGES OF COMICS, 18 AND 19

130 LOVE MESSAGES FIGURE IN WOODHOUSE SUIT

Back Bay Woman's Cry Routs Burglars

Witness Risks Life to Testify for Her
Young Mrs. Woodhouse Aided by Dressmaker at Alienation Trial.

AFFECTED TOLD IN CABLES, VOICES

3 CAUGHT FLEEING HOUSE

Passerby Phones Police When Tenant Screams Out of Window for Aid

Burglars were foiled in an attempt to break into the apartment of Mrs. W. Cranston on the second floor at No. 272 Massachusetts avenue today, when Mrs. Cranston was awakened by the noise they made while trying to force her door.

She raised a front window and screamed for help. A passerby heard her and telephoned the police. Patrolmen Burns and Griffin of the Back Bay station sped to the house in a taxi cab just in time to capture three men who were fleeing, the police say, through a rear door of the house.

The men gave their names as Herbert Dignan, twenty-two years old, Brockwell park, Roxbury; Frank Canavan, twenty-one, of Yonkers street, Roxbury; and Steven Cobb, nineteen, of Hampshire street, Roxbury.

The police say the men denied that they were trying to force the door to Mrs. Cranston's apartment. They said that they were not even on the second floor of the house, but, according to the police, they could not explain just what they were doing at the apartment house at that hour.

They were charged with attempted breaking and entering.

CONSUL ORDERED HOME; SILENT

Either Secretary Hughes or some of his aides called John Randolph, United States Consul at Constantinople, to come to Washington and keep quiet. John Randolph, who arrived today aboard the ship Star Line from Pittsburgh, said to all questions from reporters he replied, "Nothing to say."

Jimmy Cox, claiming to be the first point champion of the British navy, who seeks American gold in the wake of naval honors, was on the ship also aboard was John March, with a wife and seven children, who is a wealthy man, who was driven from Houston, southern Russia, by the Bolsheviks. There were several other Russian refugee families on the ship.

ADMIRAL WILLIAMS HEADS WAR COLLEGE

Newport, R. I., Nov. 2.—Rear Admiral C. S. Williams, U. S. N., is now president of the War College here, having taken over that office at the end of last year. For years the chief of the college has been a retired admiral, but this time the post is held by an active sea officer. Williams, who is a member of the navy and a member of the War College, is a member of the War College, and is a member of the War College.

Fitchburg Plumbers Strike
Fitchburg, Mass., Nov. 2.—Fifty plumbers in this city and Lenox are on strike today to enforce their demands for an increase in wages from 30 cents to 33 an hour.

THIS LUCKY BABY WAS BORN WITH A TOOTH!

NO WONDER HE'S PRIDE OF FAMILY.
Here's little Roland Duran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Duran of New Bedford. He's just one week old, but the happiest kid on earth. Reason, he was born with a full grown tooth! Dr. S. A. Lamoureux, maternity expert at St. Luke's Hospital, New Bedford, where Roland was born, saw it the first time the kind he has seen in years of practice. Baby, tooth and mother are all doing well.

WOMAN DENIES FIRE AT CROWDS SLAYING IN CAMBRIDGE

The woman arrested as the wife of Bruno Montana of Providence and accused with three men of the murder of Montana, denied in passionate Italian tones she was the wife of the murdered man or that she had ever known or seen him. She asserted she was Sarah Fantasia, wife of Giuseppe Fantasia of Providence, one of the men accused with her.

The crime charged against her came to light early Monday morning when the body of Montana was found in Cider Mill pond, Cambridge, with a bullet in the brain and five wounds all over the front and trunk.

The denial by the woman that she knew the slain man was made at Chief Inspector Hurley's office, with a bullet in the brain and five wounds all over the front and trunk.

WIFE OF CAT ENDS FIGHT ALIMONY

Contest Over $25,000 Estate
Left for Care of Pets Settled
Out of Court

The famous will contest of the nephews and nieces of Miss Ella Frances Barnett has been settled out of court.

In Mrs. Barnett's will, drawn in the school days of a trust fund of $25,000, was established, the interest of which was to provide a home and sustenance for her numerous household pets. These consisted of seven cats, two dogs, two canaries, a parrot and a cockatiel.

The case was due to go to trial in the Superior Court before Judge John F. Finner, and a jury had been selected, when the last of the beneficiaries of the trust fund, a nephew of the testatrix, died.

The terms of the settlement were not made known, but the eight nephews and nieces appear to be satisfied. The jury has been named by Judge Finner.

Mrs. Barnett, who lived at No. 11 Temple street, Beacon Hill, died on October 18, 1921, aged eighty years.

WELLESLEY TO CARE FOR SMYRNA GIRLS

When the steamship King Alexander, due tomorrow, reaches port from the stricken Smyrna, the girls of the High School, head of the city of Smyrna, will be taken care of by the city of Boston.

The girls, who are the sole survivors of the earthquake, will be taken care of by the city of Boston. The girls, who are the sole survivors of the earthquake, will be taken care of by the city of Boston.

SOME NAME FOR AN EXTRA SUPERIOR BABY

West Palm Beach, Fla., Nov. 2.—Man alive! Here's a pick-nick who has an awful burden to carry through life.

Zachariah Corn Crip Taylor, father and Jane Melina Perles, are the parents of a baby who was born with a very unusual feature.

WIFE WINS $2,500 AS ALIMONY

Mrs. Frances F. Ford Divorces
Hampton Beach Hotel Man on Grounds of Cruelty

Mrs. Frances F. Ford of Newton was today granted a decree of divorce at Portsmouth, N. H., from Charles Lester

Mrs. Ford charged her husband with cruel and abusive treatment. He contested the case, which brought out sensational testimony pertaining to affairs at St. Paul's hotel.

Mrs. Ford had advised that the couple started in the winter of 1921 at Florida, over John McDonald of the three-year-old child, Fay Ford, was given to Mrs. Henry Ford, mother of Mr. Ford.

Mrs. Ford charged her husband with cruel and abusive treatment. He contested the case, which brought out sensational testimony pertaining to affairs at St. Paul's hotel.

Mrs. Ford had advised that the couple started in the winter of 1921 at Florida, over John McDonald of the three-year-old child, Fay Ford, was given to Mrs. Henry Ford, mother of Mr. Ford.

MRS. DORRIT WOODHOUSE IN COURT ROOM

Latest photo of the beautiful bride, who is suing her wealthy parent-in-law for $100,000, charging alienation of her husband's affections. She appears at the trial in a dark wrap, gray skirt, embroidered blouse, with she and stockings to match. Mrs. Pratt, her dressmaker, in defiance of doctors, pronounced an operation to testify for her.

Ford, prominent hotel man of Hampton, N. H., and St. Paul's hotel, Fla.

Judge John E. Allen, who presided over the trial, ordered that the wife be paid almost $2,500 a month for the three-year-old child, Fay Ford, was given to Mrs. Henry Ford, mother of Mr. Ford.

Mrs. Ford charged her husband with cruel and abusive treatment. He contested the case, which brought out sensational testimony pertaining to affairs at St. Paul's hotel.

ROB LAUNDRY MAN AND LEAVE HIM DYING

Providence, Nov. 2.—Two colored men, with faces wrapped in towels, forced Sam Lee, a Chinese, seventy-two years old, of No. 68 Wickford street, to open the door of his laundry and then beat him over the head with a piece of gas pipe.

After attacking the laundry the robbers fled, leaving Sam bleeding on the floor. He crawled to the door, where he was found by a policeman. He is now dying at Rhode Island hospital.

MERCHANTS MEET IN SPRINGFIELD

Providence retail merchants from sections of the State gathered at Springfield today for the annual Fall Merchants' Association.

Among other speakers announced were the Rev. James Gordon Glavin of Springfield, Dr. Francis B. Short of the educational department of the J. C. Fenny Company, New York; James W. Eadie, Jr., Boston, auditor of the accounts of seventy-five New England stores; Lester S. Hall of the Connecticut Joint Committee of Agricultural Inquiry.

GOT JOB FOR GIRL, ELOPES WITH HER

Fitchburg, Nov. 2.—A romance which began with the securing of a position in a mill by eighteen-year-old Joseph Landry for Fiva Morin, sixteen years old, of Kingston, Conn., came to light today when Landry's parents reported to the police that their son and the girl were missing since last Saturday, and they believed the couple had eloped.

$1,200 FIRE LOSS IN UNOCCUPIED HOUSE

Fire did $1,200 damage to an occupied house at No. 2 Everett street, Dorchester, today. The house is owned by Joseph Muldoon of No. 18 1/2 street, Dorchester.

Lonely Bride Will Reveal the Story of Courtship in Written Form

Dartington, Vt., Nov. 2.—One hundred and thirty love letters, telegrams and telegrams will figure prominently in the $1,000,000 alimony of affections suit of Mrs. Dorrit Stevens Van Dusen Woodhouse against her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, now on trial here.

Some of the letters, it is expected, will be those which passed between the couple in the early stages of their courtship, while the young Mrs. Woodhouse was visiting her cousin, Colonel William Van Dusen, then on duty with his regiment in the Philippines.

The romance of the multi-millionaire son and a pretty little nobody is one of the most striking, beginning with their meeting in 1914 at a "peep" in the University of Vermont. It was at first a first sight. They were constantly together, and when Dorrit left for the Philippines, she carried with her a collection of letters from the young lady to her lover.

After her return in 1916, the two were inseparable. Their engagement followed, knots of which the father defied in his testimony on the witness stand in the Chittenden County Court. At one time he acknowledged he questioned her regarding the engagement, but the boy said there was "nothing to it."

Next, who was the father of the child, had no such claim. He claimed her other suitors, and Douglas was no longer susceptible to the smiles of the society girls whom his parents favored.

In 1918 after he entered the army, he and Dorrit slipped away to New York and were married in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. They then took up their residence at the Hotel Marlborough, N. Y., near the military camp where Douglas was stationed.

After the marriage, Douglas declared he had deserted his son, C. Douglas Woodhouse, and refused to pay the bill for his daughter in law's wedding. Mrs. Catherine Pratt, a North Avenue dressmaker, testified.

Mrs. Pratt, who postponed an operation for appendicitis to testify, was a witness for Mrs. Dorrit Van Stevens Woodhouse.

ON HUSBAND'S BILL.
Mrs. Pratt testified that she made a few simple summer dresses costing $15 each, and that she had no recollection of the $1,000 bill, but no recollection was forthcoming. Finally she went to the Vermont State Bank, of which Lorenzo Woodhouse was a president, and presented the bill to him.

She quoted him as saying: "I have nothing further to do with my son now. Send the bill to Douglas and unless he is desolate he will pay you." He said that he must wait and a personal letter to his son.

After the evidence was given by Mrs. Pratt, the jury was dismissed and the court cleared at 3 o'clock while the opposing counsel continued the morning's argument on the question of the $1,000,000 alimony taken by the plaintiff's counsel in New York, from young Woodhouse.

Like an Arabian Nights dream come true!

WOULDN'T YOU LIKE TO LIVE LIKE A Millionaire for a day

Here's Your Chance

The Boston Post

will invite one of its readers each day, together with a friend or relative to be chosen by him or her, to live like a Millionaire for a Day in Boston as personal guests of the Post. No expense nor pains will be spared to make the day a memorable one. The guests will be called for at their homes by the Post Host in a luxurious limousine, taken to the Touraine or Copley-Plaza for luncheon. The afternoon will be spent in any way the guests choose. They may decide on an automobile ride, wish to go to a football game, a vaudeville show, a concert, to meet public dignitaries—and their desires will be met. The best dinner that can be served in Boston will be set before them, followed by a box party at any theatre they may elect to visit. They will be taken to their homes in the Post limousine and also presented with suitable remembrances of the day. The Post Host plans daily surprises for his guests. Readers living at a distance from Boston will be given tickets to and from Boston and will be met at the station by the Post Host. In case they are unable to reach their homes the same evening, they will be guests of the Post at the Touraine or Copley-Plaza over night.

To give all readers an equal chance to see Boston as guests of the Post, they are invited to participate in a unique contest. Daily winners will be chosen on a basis of the cleverest answers to a Daily question or problem. The contest is simple and yet novel. Any one can qualify by writing a few words. No answer containing more than 25 words can be considered. Conciseness and crispness are desired.

Any Winner May Assign His or Her Rights to Any Person He or She Selects

It costs nothing to enter this most novel of all newspaper contests. The few simple conditions and

Question No. 1 will be printed in
THE BOSTON SUNDAY POST NOV. 5

Succeeding questions will be printed each day thereafter in the Post, daily and Sunday, until further notice

Your day as a Millionaire will be one never to be forgotten!

ASK RECEIVER FOR OIL COMPANY

The Oil Company of the State of New York, which has been operating in the State of New York since 1900, is now seeking a receiver for its oil company. The company is now seeking a receiver for its oil company. The company is now seeking a receiver for its oil company.

The Oil Company of the State of New York, which has been operating in the State of New York since 1900, is now seeking a receiver for its oil company. The company is now seeking a receiver for its oil company. The company is now seeking a receiver for its oil company.

Always the Same

AND those three little words provide the best tribute for anything that is good—
"We say of a good friend, of truth, of love itself—
"Always the same."
And that is why White House Coffee has grown into the liking, the preference, the attachment of countless good people.

They say of it—White House Coffee is always the same. For over thirty years it has proved itself—Coffee goodness—Coffee at its best—White House Coffee.

If you want a coffee that will enthrall your appreciation as well as your palate, try a pound of White House Coffee.

You will find it good, the finest coffee you ever tasted—coffee that is unequalled at any price. Try a pound of White House Coffee today.

Be sure the "White House" is on every label 1, 3 and 5 lb. packages only

WHITE HOUSE
DWINELL-WRIGHT CO.
COFFEE

STAGE-STRUCK FLAPPERS ARE SOUGHT HERE

It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here. It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here. It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here.

It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here. It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here. It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here.

It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here. It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here. It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here.

It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here. It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here. It is not the first time that the stage-struck flappers have been sought here.

Double Debuts for Society Buds Popular This Season, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN
The double debuts for the season are coming very close together this year. These girls, quite aside from their social standing, are from a practical point of view, a very desirable set of girls, and the rank of the coming contingent.

Both the Misses Bates, Rose and Margaret W. Bates, are to be introduced together at a dance, which the former, mother Mrs. Frederick P. Bates, is giving for them tomorrow night at the Hotel Somerset. The debutants and a few of the buds who are to be introduced are to attend the dance which Mrs. Bates is giving for them, also at the Somerset.

Another set of double debuts is to come on the 22nd of the month when Misses Frances Weld and Mary Post will be presented at a dance which Mrs. Henry Post, of the No. 142 Chestnut street, is giving for them at her home. Miss Weld is the daughter of the Bernard C. Welds of the No. 142 Chestnut street, while her sister, Miss Post, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Post, at a No. 142 Chestnut street.

I HEAR that Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Parker are to continue their sojourn at Hot Springs for about a fortnight, when they will return to Boston for the winter.

BACK in Boston from a year abroad is Miss Elizabeth Drinkwater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Drinkwater. The young lady is now at the Hotel Somerset, where she is having a social season. She is also attending the school of the Hotel Somerset, where she is having a social season.

On her way home Miss Drinkwater visited the battle field of France and Belgium and also witnessed the famous play at the Flanders Field. During the summer her sojourn was at the Hotel Somerset, where she is having a social season. She is also attending the school of the Hotel Somerset, where she is having a social season.

PHILAN URGES DRIVE ON COAL SPECULATORS

Emergency Fuel Administration. Philan is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator.

Philan is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator.

Philan is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator.

Philan is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator.

Philan is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator.

Philan is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator. He is playing the part of a coal speculator.

SEEK SLAYERS OF MEXICAN REBEL RELIEF WORKER TAKEN ASLEEP

By the Associated Press.
Mexico City, Nov. 2.—A man operating a machine gun in the city of Mexico, who is believed to be a slayer of a relief worker, was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep. The man was taken asleep.

The pie all men love LEMON PIE

GOOD LUCK for LEMON PIE smooth and creamy every time YOUR GROCER HAS IT

F. D. Whitney Company
Linen Specialists Since 1798.

The Real Charm of the Orient Is Interwoven in These Beautiful Hand-Made Fiet-Lace Pieces

SCARFS, 18x36 to 18x72 $9.00 to $22.00 each
BED SPREADS, $50.00 to $90.00
LUNCHEON SETS of twenty-five pieces, a set, $55.00 to $110.00
CHAIR BACKS, ea., $1.50 to $2.25

REAL HAND-MADE FIET 6-INCH DOILIES Round and square, at each 50c

EXQUISITE MOSAIC EMBROIDERIES for those who have all the lace they want and desire a change

Table Covers 36 to 54 inches round, ea., $12.00 to $45.00
Luncheon Sets 13 and 25 pieces, a set $40.00 to $85.00
Napkins $8.00 a dozen SCARFS, ea. $9 to $25

Cluny Laces Are again in vogue, and we have just received a new importation

Who Doesn't Love Madeira? Here Are a Few Special Items: Scarfs, 18x36 to 18x72 $3.25 to $18.00
Napkins, a dozen $9.50 to $18.00
Luncheon Sets, each $5.00 to $28.50
Oval and Oblong Doilies, each $5 to $4.50
Clove and Handkerchief Cases, each 75c to $1.75
Hot Roll Covers, each $1.00 to $3.00

New Dish Towels Help to Keep the Kitchen Spick and Span 200 dozen All Linen Dish Towels, good heavy weight, 12x18, 22x30, one yard long, hemmed ready for use, ready for use. Each 29c Special at, each 49c.
25c to 60c

All Linen Glass Towelling 32c 37c 40c 47c 50c 55c and 60c a yard

Windows That Cheer the Passer-by and Make Interiors Bright
The Voile Curtains, Virgusettes, Fillet and Sun and Air without fading in ravishing colors that glimmer and glisten. $1.00 a yard, up to $3.50

T. D. Whitney Company
EVERYTHING IN LINENS
37-39 Temple Place—Boston 10—25-31 West Street

The First Name on the List

Everyone has one name upon his Christmas list which outranks all the others in importance. The hardest gift to decide upon, it should be the first one selected.

For a young matron we suggest the new earrings of unusual length and satisfactory twinkles, or a necklace of seed pearls and onyx that is Parisian in its smartness.

For the young girl a link bracelet or a little finger ring is a welcome gift. She appreciates, too, a fitted suitcase or bag to use on her trips to college proms and gay week-ends.

Men may be well pleased with a number of possible gifts from our shop. We are the sole Boston agents for the John Brunfit pipes, so beloved by those who possess them. The ostrich cigar and cigarette cases are both good-looking and unusual.

Many men have carried their present watches so long that they wish for a new one. The models nowadays are so different from those of a few years ago that they secretly feel old-fashioned.

These are gift suggestions, chosen at random from the many we could make. If you will spend a little time in our various departments we will gladly show you many charming things.

Shreve, Crump and Low Company
Gold, Silver and Jewelry Makers of Original Gifts 147 Tremont Street Boston, Mass.

Betty Alden

AMERICAN SPORTS

BRITTON, BEATEN, MAY QUIT RING

ETERAN TITLE HOLDER RETURNS TO RING

By JACK CONWAY.
New York, Nov. 2.—The kid conquered the old man! That's the story of Mickey Walker's victory over Jack Britton in fifteen rounds at historic Madison Square Garden. When the final blow had been delivered and the bell sounded for the end of the final round, there was not the least doubt but that the world's welterweight title would pass from the aged brow of the crusty Britton to that of the youthful Walker. Mickey had given Britton one of the most decisive defeats ever sustained.

Three times d. d. Walker's heavy blows drop the defeated champion to the canvas.

A left hook sent Britton down in the second round. The veteran fighter it was merely a lucky smash and didn't take any benefit of the count.

Once more in the tenth frame did Britton go to the canvas. Body blows turned the trick. Jack, badly battered and in poor condition, took the count of nine.

The third knockdown came in the thirteenth frame. A terrific left hand punch to the body dropped the title holder. This time he again took the count of nine.

Britton's remarkable courage and ability as a defense boxer were the only things that enabled him to go the distance. Most any other fighter would have crumbled in the face of ten rounds under the force of blows sent forth by the youthful Elizabeth, N. J. warrior.

Walker won every round but the fourth and fifth, which saw Britton out in front.

Only once in the entire bout early in the eleventh frame—did he then carry the battle to the challenger. On this occasion he made a desperate effort to knock the knockdown scored by Walker in the tenth round.

Britton was given a victory. Weakened by the ravages of age he was only a ghost of the boxer who saw battle T. d. d. Lewis and the stars of eight and ten years ago in Boston ring.

No Longer Moves Around With Dazzling Speed

Britton no longer moves around the ring with dazzling speed. His every movement is slow and methodical. He fought Walker on grit and endurance.

These factors were not enough to hold back one of the greatest punchers the ring has known since the days of Daniel Keighly.

Walker's left hook to the head and body beat Britton's left hand, smothered the last spark of fighting spirit in Britton's stout heart.

More Than 13,000 Fans Saw the Champions Fight

A tremendous crowd estimated at more than 13,000 persons, saw the title-chamber hands.

Walker, the new champion, was given an ovation when it was announced he was king of his boxing division.

Britton was first to grasp Mickey's hand after the twenty-one round decision.

Announcer Joe Humphreys then greeted Britton to the ring. He called for three hurrahs and a tiger for the greatest champion of modern times.

And how that crowd did yell!

We doubt even if ever the victor's own doughboys in France let out a louder whoop when the Germans put down their arms in defeat.

Britton Was Overcome By the Great Cheeks

Britton was overcome by emotion. Tears rushed to his eyes and trickled down his cheeks. He gazed out on the great crowd which cheered him, dropped his head and then hurried to his corner and thence out of the ring.

The boxing arena has probably never seen the last of Britton other than a possible appearance at a worthy boxing testimonial.

The Grand Old Master has fought his last battle. For twenty years he has stood up before all kinds of opposition. For more than a decade he has been known as the world's greatest welterweight despite the fact Lewis held the title for a short period.

He has fought courageously and well. Let him have rest. He is entitled to this after more than 600 battles.

A sensation was caused when it was announced just before the bout that all bets were off. The announcement went on to state that the State Athletic Commission and the Madison Square Athletic Club had both agreed to this decision.

Emotion Caused When All Bets Were Declared Off.

At first this caused some of the fans to declare that the bout was to be a fake. Later developments proved that it was an honest fight and that both men battled on bravely to the end.

Therefore it probably seemed it was to call off all the bets for fear that some of the men "in the know" would make a financial clean up and leave the boxing game in the future a waste of time.

There was a flash of romance to the bout.

Miss Agnes Kelley, a Newark girl, occupied a ring-side seat with Mrs.

Meet Mickey Walker, New Welter Champ

New Jersey boy who was awarded the verdict over Jack Britton in their title bout.

Jack Bulger, wife of Walker's manager. As soon as he could get into his street clothes, Walker hurried to the floor Pennsylvania where his fiancée and Mrs. Bulger were waiting for him.

"Now we'll get married," was the champion's greeting to Miss Kelly. "I'd have married you even if you had lost," rejoined the girl. "You're my champion, no matter what judges and referees may decide."

We shall post the details on this scene.

Walker Opened With Terrific Rush in First

Walker opened with a terrific rush in the first round. A deadly left hook crashed against Britton's head, and the veteran fighter was knocked back away and jabbed with his left.

A series of body blows sent Britton reeling back against the ropes. He tried to make Walter give ground, but the challenger persisted in crowding the Morgan entry. One of Walker's left hooks to the head turned Britton completely around. It was apparent at this early stage in the conflict that Britton was doomed to defeat.

The second round was a wonderful one for Walker. He hammered Britton all over the ring. Lacking an exchange of blows, Walker crashed a left hook to the jaw which sent Britton to the canvas. Jack was merely off balance at the time, but it was enough to send him sprawling. Britton did not take the benefit of a moment's rest.

Britton Realizes He Was Doomed to Defeat

Apparently realizing he was very likely to be defeated unless he displayed a little better brand of fighting, Britton made a sport in the third frame. He counted breath with left and right hand smashes. He did not seem to have a great deal of effect upon Mickey, as the New Jersey kid kept boxing in when he was getting for the body with sharp, deadly smashes. It was Walker's round by a shade.

The fourth and fifth rounds saw the Britton enter out in front. Left hooks to the head and short right hand uppercuts won the rounds. He managed to make Walker miss a look of heavy swings.

But even though he was getting outpunched, Walker kept carrying the battle to his opponent. He was banking his hopes of victory upon the left wall.

He Went Over in the Sixth Round.

It went rollicking over in the sixth frame. A left hook sent Britton's head back. Walker made a body to close quarters and whaled away with his left and right hand whips to the body. Britton doubled up, crumpled to the canvas. He remained his feet at the count of nine. Walker continued to carry the fight to Britton. He tried desperately for a knockout, but Britton's persistence was a little bit too much for him.

The seventh, eighth and ninth rounds saw the challenger knocking the champion, of eleven years, to the corner.

On the tenth round, Walker was grim and determined. He was punching hard and short.

"It will go hard for Britton after the seventh round," Walker told this crowd shortly before the bout started.

And it did.

Terrific Left Hook Crashed Into Stomach

A terrific left hook buried itself in Britton's stomach. Jack's mouth opened, eyes became glassy, his knees trembled, he dropped to the canvas.

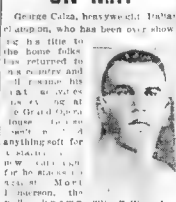

It did not appear as though he would be able to revive his feet. But at the count of nine Britton, thirty-seven years of age, struggled to his feet to once more face his youthful foe.

For the rest of the round Walker hammered Britton around the ring. He continued his terrific, merciless attack in the eleventh round.

In the twelfth round Britton once more went to the canvas. And it was a left hook to the body which won it.

The fact that Britton was a ten to three favorite in the betting was probably what caused the commission and the club to act as it did. The commission's physical examination of Britton showed that he might

CALZA OPPOSES HEARDERSON ON MAT

George Calza, heavyweight contender, who has been overhauled by his title. He has returned to his native land, where he is now training at the Grand Olympic house. He is a very much up in the first of seven of the wealthy group.

Calza lost out from his own avocation, or the way in the hospital, not a bit of it. He trained, but when he came back to the ring, he was in a very much up in the first of seven of the wealthy group.

In a preliminary setto, George Calza, the Greek champion, took on Mike Romano, who is Italian light heavyweight title holder. "Stan" Stank and George Romano, the Wacoan Giant, will also meet.

ARENA PROGRAM STIRS BOXING INTEREST

The Perry Shale bout at the Arena Monday evening, the result of fate attend on horseback. The program is very much up in the first of seven of the wealthy group.

The Pittsburgh Italian is of the boring in type who shows to better advantage when in close. His ability to counter and work in the clinches has earned him the respect of a majority of the fighters in the welterweight division. He and Perry clashed in Milwaukee recently. Some of the writers gave their verdict to Perry but some favored Shale.

The bout will be a brand new face will be offered and if reports from the Pacific coast ring true the fight is a center. He is in the ring. Marion who has engaged in 500 bouts and lost only one, will be a very much up in the first of seven of the wealthy group.

Porter Adams of Boston, vice-president of the National Amateur Athletic Association, has been made to the National Amateur Athletic Association.

Further Adams, association, has asked for all the information regarding the performance of a fair last Saturday, and not only flow over the great crowd of 15,000 persons in the Yale hall but who did many stunts as well. At Hartford the entry of Charles Chamberlain of New Jersey for a fight with Adams was refused, following the report that it was Chamberlain who flew over the bow last Saturday.

YALE PROTESTS FLYING OVER FOOTBALL BOWL

New Haven, Nov. 2.—A violent protest against aviation flying over the Yale Bowl while a football game is in progress, has been made to the National Amateur Athletic Association by the Yale Athletic Association.

Porter Adams of Boston, vice-president of the National Amateur Athletic Association, has been made to the National Amateur Athletic Association.

Further Adams, association, has asked for all the information regarding the performance of a fair last Saturday, and not only flow over the great crowd of 15,000 persons in the Yale hall but who did many stunts as well. At Hartford the entry of Charles Chamberlain of New Jersey for a fight with Adams was refused, following the report that it was Chamberlain who flew over the bow last Saturday.

Winthrop Blacks Woburn

Winthrop took the lead in the Greater Boston Intercollegiate football league, and when it was over, it was a 10-0 victory.

Star tobacco

Star tobacco is the best for 52 years.

Full Plug 90 in Patented Moisture-Proof Box or 15¢ a Cut.

If it's at Mori's it's correct—if it's correct it's at Mori's.

This week—thousands of men and young men will buy overcoats.—Remember, the most important factor is to pick out

THE RIGHT STORE

Come here— for your overcoat

You will find in our stocks the model you want—the fabric and pattern you prefer—the tailoring far superior because every coat is built in our own tailor shops. The world's finest fabrics including Worumbos, Crombies, Germanias and Hockanums.

A Wonderful Display of OVERCOATS

$25 to $85

Featuring the Guard Raglan

$40 to $65

Just like the coat illustrated above. Note the smart lines—the collar, cuffs, pockets. Beautiful plaid fabrics in the new and most wanted shades. A coat for man or young man—swagger, yet not freakish. Roomy, warm and comfortable, exceptionally stylish. In short a wonderful winter overcoat.

Two-trouser suits $31.25 to $62.50
Men's and boys' hats, shoes and furnishings

Leopold Morseto

Washington Street at Brattle—Adams Square
Store hours: 8:30 to 6:00. Saturdays till 9.

TIGERS SHOW FULL STRENGTH TO BEAT SWARTHMORE

HARVARD AND YALE MATCH PROBABLY

By CHARLES E. PARKER.

We're going to take a look at those Princeton Tigers Saturday. If there's one team on the well-known map that has surprised the boys this season it is the team from Old Nassau.

When Ralph Gilroy was declared out of Tiger athletics, and several others among the few returning veterans found their classic accounts did not balance with the faculty requirements, few figured the striped cats would amount to much in the game of football.

Their coach, Bill Roper, always before had been blessed with remarkable material, and many, including yours truly, were a bit skeptical over his ability to fashion a group of great athletes into a winning machine.

Yet that's exactly what Bill Roper has done, so it would appear from the results of Princeton games to date, which include triumphs over Colgate and Chicago.

To be sure its play to date has suffered markedly from the play of recent Tiger losses. It lacks positive, sure and impressive drives up the field and over enemy goal lines to net chattering records.

It reminds one of the Tiger Teams Before War.

But it does remind one of the Tiger teams before the war, those opportunistic eleven, which, while lacking a sound, scoring offense, were over on the alert to profit by the mistakes of the opponent.

Of course Tiger rosters would prefer a positive team, one that can go out there with the best of them and march attack with attack and defend with defense, and at the end of the game show a winning edge.

There's something about an unquenchable drive over the lattices, a reward that gets under the skin after a game Tiger roster, like the roster of other colleges, are happy when they can say to their opponents, "We were better, men than you are Chingus Dins."

But the roster of other colleges, the Tiger adherents find it almost equal in pleasing to cheer. "Well, you may have it all over us men, but we can attack for attack, but you can't win the game, and the score is what counts."

And that is just what Tigers rosters have been doing this season, and it exactly what they expect to do this week, next week and the week after next. And if they realize on this expectation the Tigers will prove the king pin of the "big three," with claim for the Eastern football title.

We're not predicting that such will be the outcome of the Tiger season. The Yale almost invariably has proved a bugaboo for the Princetonians. The Yale have won a fair amount of Yale games, but the balance is still strong in favor of the Bull Dog, despite the game years at New Haven and immediately before and ever since the war.

The Harvard team is a team that can be counted upon to make mistakes, and Harvard because of the Princeton's last season's play, is looking for the Tigers one week from Saturday.

Swarthmore Will Make Princeton Display Ability.

According to the story we have been furnished, the Swarthmore eleven which plays Princeton this week, is just about the right sort of a team to force Princeton to disclose its real ability.

Swarthmore is not a champion team, by any means, for a very big tackle was checked against by Princeton, but Swarthmore is a real trouble-maker, as was evidenced by Navy conceding Princeton a victory by a 14 to 6 score. And for Swarthmore victory over Princeton is much to be desired.

But Princeton ought to beat this week's Nassau visitors, albeit the Tigers may be forced to show their full hand in so doing. And if they, full hand shows a worthwhile attack Harvard and Yale will have immediate occasion for worry.

Former Backfield Man Is Playing Centre.

The present makeup of the Tiger team finds a former backfield man playing centre, a veteran of two years ago playing one guard, a former end playing the other end, a transfer from Boston College filling one of the tackle spots, a veteran of last year filling the other tackle post, former star players at both wings and in all the backfield positions.

Except for Herb Treat, the major transfer, none of the first-year combination started the season, a year, and if Princeton can enter into the "big three" title with that combination Coach Roper would have raised himself in the estimate of the football public.

If for no other reason than to see how they grow now in Florida the game with the Harvard Stadium should attract a fair crowd Saturday.

The specifications sent North by the Florida press agents would indicate Florida is not yet bereft of those widely advertised vitamins, which, all tower over six feet and carry upwards of 200 pounds in weight.

They furnish plenty of territory for the book worm to do business, however, and may look better in repose than in action.

Boston University Regarded Seriously by Dartmouth.

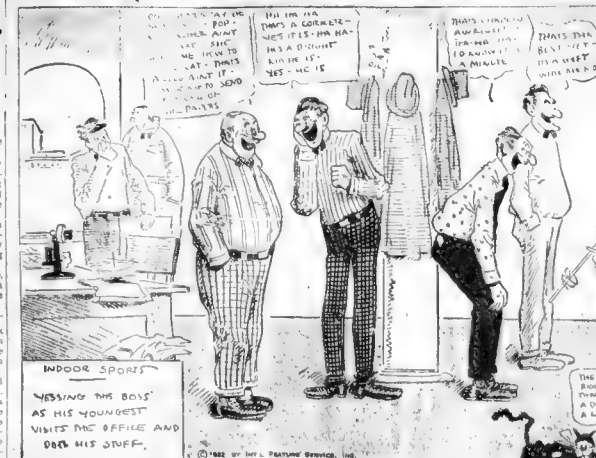

Boston University, although yet to win a football game, has won an immense amount of favorable comment thus far this season, and Coach Cannon of Dartmouth is doing the right thing in insuring that Saturday's game at Hanover be taken with real seriousness.

In the Colby-B.U. game the Back Bay outfit, although giving but a 1 to 3 tie, soundly outplayed the States of Maine, in the Vermont game B. U. beat the redoubtable Kenyon to a single touchback, and showed many flashes of real football in the Holy Cross game. B. U. came from behind in most brilliant fashion and tied the score and in the Brown game, the Bruins had their hands full in overcoming Coach Whelan's team. Only against B. C. was it outclassed, and even in that contest there were many incidents in B. U.'s play that drew favorable remarks.

Indoor Sports

Copyright, 1925, by International Picture Service, Inc. Registered U. S. Patent Office.

By TAD EAGLE USES HOLY DAY FOR LONG WORKOUT

GOLDSTEIN NOW AT RIGHT END FOR GREEN

Janover, N. H., Nov. 2.—Dartmouth's football team got its first bit of reorganization since the Harvard game when, Alvin Goldstein, tackle, who substituted for Pudge Neudinger, was shifted to right end, where he will work in the absence of Eddie Lynch. The change is not permanent by any means.

Lynch was one of the Green stars in the stadium against Harvard and his ankle was hurt in the middle of the second period. Even then he returned for a few minutes in the third period, performing in his usual brilliant style.

But Lynch's injury, originally suffered at Atlanta last fall while the Dartmouth team was practicing for the Georgia game, has recurred frequently this season. He was hurt in scrimmage before the first game, and did not appear in the lineup until the Vermont game, when he was shifted to right end to give him plenty of chance to recover.

Alvin Goldstein, who is expected to play, has been taking care of the job only, but lacks weight. Goldstein has been putting up a fight with Hatch for a tackle position, but he is not strong enough for the job, but the weight of tackle material has decided the case for Goldstein.

Goldstein is also a very fast backfield player.

The backfield has been getting along with the variety and even got into the game with them, for a few minutes, so it is now certain that he will be seen in action again Boston University.

Johnny Allen, Chuck Baker, and Alvin Goldstein are taking turns in the backfield. Baker, however, the most offensive power of the team, is being held out of action because of his offensive and defensive ability.

EXETER TO SEND IN SUBS ON SATURDAY

Exeter, N. H., Nov. 2.—Exeter's crumpled, Robert MacFarland, fullback of Somerville, and Richard Wortham, guard, of Paris-Tex., have joined the squad for light practice.

Carl Kandel, of Dorchester, halfback, is still limping from his injured knee sustained in the Worcester game.

Coach Blake has sent all of the candidates back to tackling the dummy and blocking even this week as the result of poor tackling shown in the last contest, and Assistant Coach Williamson has given the line a thorough overhauling.

Much improvement is expected during the next few days. A team of this size will probably be sent against the New Hampshire College freshmen, coached by "Dutch" Connor, star of the last New Hampshire last season.

Richard O'Connell, a Cambridge boy, is likely to be given a chance on the end, and "Red" Burns of Dorchester will run the team at quarterback.

OLD MAN ZBYSZKO WINS AGAINST BINCKLEY

Age conquered youth at Mechanics Building. Stanislaus Zbyszko, ancient gladiator of the mat, defeated Cliff Binckley, the former heavyweight champion of the world, in the first of the series of three fights from Tulsa at catch as catch can, American Athletic Union.

Zbyszko made his first appearance in Boston. He showed class as a wrestler when he tossed the little holder for the first fall of the match after 24 minutes and 21 seconds.

The spectators roared the building with applause when Zbyszko, with his head and shoulders on Binckley's back, reversed the grip, brought Binckley's head to the mat.

The second and third falls went to Zbyszko in 11 minutes and 30 seconds, and four minutes respectively. Zbyszko topped the husky youth with a pin wheel hold for the second fall. Zbyszko picked up the young giant in his short, stubby arm and whirled him about a half dozen times and bumped him on the mat.

Binckley came back both shoulders and the youth lay helpless and dizzy on the mat.

This was a big surprise to the fans, who were keenly cheering for the newcomer to win.

Binckley came back for the third fall after he was advised by physicians to withdraw because of a severe bump on the head in the second fall. He was forced to give up after four minutes.

Wardlaw Tucker awarded the gold medal to Zbyszko.

The opening number, which was won by Tommy Anderson, light-weight champion of New England, and in one fall over Billy Goodland, was a hammer while it lasted. Both boys battled it out in 21 minutes and 30 seconds of the most exciting and gripping.

Recorded tonight his opponent with a head chopper and left Nelson.

Frank Judson (Jalinski), Harvard wrestling coach, defeated Soldier Levitt in one fall. The "Big" would have been a front runner, but he was marked by rough tactics, the part of Levitt's coach, who tried to make progress by hitting and allowing his coach error.

PENN STATE TO BATTLE NAVY TOMORROW

Rice College, Pa., Nov. 2.—The game between Penn State and Navy at the American League baseball park in Washington, tomorrow afternoon, will mark the ninth since between Hugo Bezdek and Ed Ford, ex-coaches of rival Princeton University.

The wily Hugo came out on top in all three previous meetings and Penn state fans are speculating as to how the fourth encounter will result.

Bezdek coached the Oregon team that defeated Penn on the Pacific coast in 1916, and in 1919 in the Penn State Penn contest, won out 10 to 0, and the third tilt was with the Navy last year which State won 21 to 1.

With the exception of Captain Bents and McMahon, the giant tackle, who are suffering with bad shoulders, the varsity players are in good condition.

McAllister Midgets Lose

The McAllister School midgy football team of Concord lost to the Pay School Junior team of Southboro 21 to 0.

Call for Lafayette

The manager of the Lafayette of the North End is recruiting a team for the season. He is looking for a team of players who are willing to play for the team.

RIVERTON A. C. TO HOLD AMATEUR SHOW

The Riverton A. C. of Chelsea will inaugurate its annual boxing show at the Riverton Athletic Club on Saturday evening. The show will feature a number of bouts, including a heavyweight bout between a local champion and a professional.

The show will be held at the Riverton Athletic Club, which is located at the corner of Main and Elm streets. The show will start at 8 o'clock and will last until 11 o'clock.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

The show will be a great success and will attract a large crowd of spectators. The show will be a great opportunity for the local champions to show their skills and for the professional to win a big prize.

Filene's Men's Shops

Hundreds of striped and figured percale shirts $1.35

—a quality that usually sells for more

Street floor—mail orders filled.

As the mercury goes down easy starting needs a gas that is volatile and an oil that stays fluid

TEXACO GASOLINE

TEXACO MOTOR OIL

—the volatile gas—catches the spark instantly and starts your engine like a flash regardless of the thermometer—

the clean, clear, full-bodied, golden color oil. Flows freely and lubricates perfectly in all temperatures.

THE TEXAS COMPANY, U. S. A.

Texas Petroleum Products

GINITA KING SIZE CIGARS

2 for 25c A Royal Smoke

They say they are good!

Run it with Texaco Gasoline

EASIER STARTING

Save it with Texaco Motor Oil

Frothingham Phibbs on Public Speakers and Speeches

By Nat N. Dorfman

Frothingham did nothing else. He gave the editor a new importance. Quaintly Amanda Phibbs, ever ready to file at the once dry basement he had converted into a damp rendezvous.

"Perhaps so," acquiesced Frothy, gingerly, "but it was an even greater boon to mankind—it eliminated the public speaker. Private speakers," added the family cash register ally, "will exist."

"I presume you refer to me, Mr. Phibbs," said the mistress with a haughty. "And I thank you for the compliment. Women can be interesting to her harpers even if they ARE sober. Which is one reason why men are afraid to get up and speak at banquets nowadays."

"But women have an advantage over men," interpreted Frothingham. "When a man used to talk at a banquet, the guests were usually under the influence of a high-ball or two and were naturally not under the collar. Listening to a woman we don't need a drink. She makes it hot for us without any artificial stimulation."

"I suppose you think that's smart," cried Amanda, "but the fact still remains that as speakers women stand in a class by themselves."

"It's they'd only remain in a class by themselves it wouldn't be half bad," said Phibbs solemnly. "but the trouble is they're forever dragging us men into it, and that's where the rub comes in. Men, on the other hand, don't speak unless they have something to say."

"And it appears to me," continued Frothy, "that since prohibition they have a great deal to say to their bootleggers."

"During the great wet age," continued Frothy, "with utter disregard to the his spouse put over, 'men spoke publicly for hours and nobody paid any attention to them. But because of this fellow Volstead all of us are forced to listen to the public speakers now, and believe me, dearie, they've got to talk real home-true or they're out of luck."

"Amanda met this explanation with a laugh.

"Which evidently means, Mr.

Phibbs," she said, "that you're not going to deliver that talk for the relief of the starving Exile moon you've been preparing these two months."

"No," admitted Phibbs sadly, "the way I feel about this thing now, it'll be cold day before I speak in behalf of the Exile moon or anybody else for that matter."

"And the gloriously beautiful line about the dissipated lipos that need repairing has all melted, as it were?"

"That's the size of it, if you must know," admitted Frothy. "I'm not going to be made a fool of myself delivering a long speech on people suffering from the cold. They ought to find a remedy themselves and move into our apartment. And then they could try—try hard to keep warm."

"Say," said Amanda, as she fumbled with a letter that was all crumpled up, "I believe this letter came in the morning's mail. Tell me read it to you, dear. It says: 'Dear Mr. Phibbs, owing to our lengthy programme and the prominence of the many speakers invited, would we be imposing a hardship upon you if we postponed the invitation to deliver an address that was extended to you? At some distant date we will call upon you to deliver this address. Perhaps then the Americans at the Blackhawk Tribe will be in dire need of something and then all you will have to do is change the climate. Trusting you will accept this in the spirit with which it is written, we beg to remain, YOUR COMMITTEE.'"

"Dear Mr. Phibbs," shouted Phibbs angrily as she finished up with a great flourish. "I thought I had torn that letter up!"

Phibbs," she said, "that you're not going to deliver that talk for the relief of the starving Exile moon you've been preparing these two months."

"No," admitted Phibbs sadly, "the way I feel about this thing now, it'll be cold day before I speak in behalf of the Exile moon or anybody else for that matter."

"And the gloriously beautiful line about the dissipated lipos that need repairing has all melted, as it were?"

"That's the size of it, if you must know," admitted Frothy. "I'm not going to be made a fool of myself delivering a long speech on people suffering from the cold. They ought to find a remedy themselves and move into our apartment. And then they could try—try hard to keep warm."

"Say," said Amanda, as she fumbled with a letter that was all crumpled up, "I believe this letter came in the morning's mail. Tell me read it to you, dear. It says: 'Dear Mr. Phibbs, owing to our lengthy programme and the prominence of the many speakers invited, would we be imposing a hardship upon you if we postponed the invitation to deliver an address that was extended to you? At some distant date we will call upon you to deliver this address. Perhaps then the Americans at the Blackhawk Tribe will be in dire need of something and then all you will have to do is change the climate. Trusting you will accept this in the spirit with which it is written, we beg to remain, YOUR COMMITTEE.'"

"Dear Mr. Phibbs," shouted Phibbs angrily as she finished up with a great flourish. "I thought I had torn that letter up!"

"During the great wet age," continued Frothy, "with utter disregard to the his spouse put over, 'men spoke publicly for hours and nobody paid any attention to them. But because of this fellow Volstead all of us are forced to listen to the public speakers now, and believe me, dearie, they've got to talk real home-true or they're out of luck."

"Amanda met this explanation with a laugh.

"Which evidently means, Mr.

Phibbs," she said, "that you're not going to deliver that talk for the relief of the starving Exile moon you've been preparing these two months."

"No," admitted Phibbs sadly, "the way I feel about this thing now, it'll be cold day before I speak in behalf of the Exile moon or anybody else for that matter."

"And the gloriously beautiful line about the dissipated lipos that need repairing has all melted, as it were?"

"That's the size of it, if you must know," admitted Frothy. "I'm not going to be made a fool of myself delivering a long speech on people suffering from the cold. They ought to find a remedy themselves and move into our apartment. And then they could try—try hard to keep warm."

"Say," said Amanda, as she fumbled with a letter that was all crumpled up, "I believe this letter came in the morning's mail. Tell me read it to you, dear. It says: 'Dear Mr. Phibbs, owing to our lengthy programme and the prominence of the many speakers invited, would we be imposing a hardship upon you if we postponed the invitation to deliver an address that was extended to you? At some distant date we will call upon you to deliver this address. Perhaps then the Americans at the Blackhawk Tribe will be in dire need of something and then all you will have to do is change the climate. Trusting you will accept this in the spirit with which it is written, we beg to remain, YOUR COMMITTEE.'"

"Dear Mr. Phibbs," shouted Phibbs angrily as she finished up with a great flourish. "I thought I had torn that letter up!"

"During the great wet age," continued Frothy, "with utter disregard to the his spouse put over, 'men spoke publicly for hours and nobody paid any attention to them. But because of this fellow Volstead all of us are forced to listen to the public speakers now, and believe me, dearie, they've got to talk real home-true or they're out of luck."

"Amanda met this explanation with a laugh.

"Which evidently means, Mr.

Phibbs," she said, "that you're not going to deliver that talk for the relief of the starving Exile moon you've been preparing these two months."

"No," admitted Phibbs sadly, "the way I feel about this thing now, it'll be cold day before I speak in behalf of the Exile moon or anybody else for that matter."

"And the gloriously beautiful line about the dissipated lipos that need repairing has all melted, as it were?"

"That's the size of it, if you must know," admitted Frothy. "I'm not going to be made a fool of myself delivering a long speech on people suffering from the cold. They ought to find a remedy themselves and move into our apartment. And then they could try—try hard to keep warm."

"Say," said Amanda, as she fumbled with a letter that was all crumpled up, "I believe this letter came in the morning's mail. Tell me read it to you, dear. It says: 'Dear Mr. Phibbs, owing to our lengthy programme and the prominence of the many speakers invited, would we be imposing a hardship upon you if we postponed the invitation to deliver an address that was extended to you? At some distant date we will call upon you to deliver this address. Perhaps then the Americans at the Blackhawk Tribe will be in dire need of something and then all you will have to do is change the climate. Trusting you will accept this in the spirit with which it is written, we beg to remain, YOUR COMMITTEE.'"

"Dear Mr. Phibbs," shouted Phibbs angrily as she finished up with a great flourish. "I thought I had torn that letter up!"

"During the great wet age," continued Frothy, "with utter disregard to the his spouse put over, 'men spoke publicly for hours and nobody paid any attention to them. But because of this fellow Volstead all of us are forced to listen to the public speakers now, and believe me, dearie, they've got to talk real home-true or they're out of luck."

"Amanda met this explanation with a laugh.

"Which evidently means, Mr.

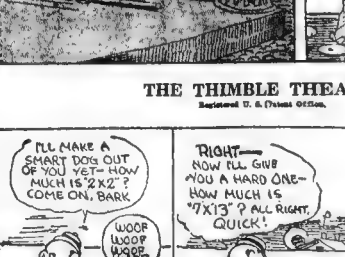

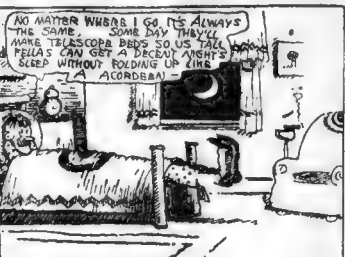

Phibbs," she said, "that you're not going to deliver that talk for the relief of the starving Exile moon you've been preparing these two months."

"No," admitted Phibbs sadly, "the way I feel about this thing now, it'll be cold day before I speak in behalf of the Exile moon or anybody else for that matter."

"And the gloriously beautiful line about the dissipated lipos that need repairing has all melted, as it were?"

"That's the size of it, if you must know," admitted Frothy. "I'm not going to be made a fool of myself delivering a long speech on people suffering from the cold. They ought to find a remedy themselves and move into our apartment. And then they could try—try hard to keep warm."

STUMBLE INN

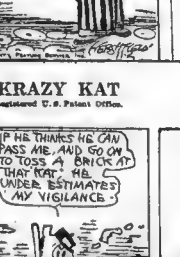

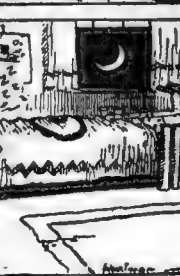

ABIE THE AGENT

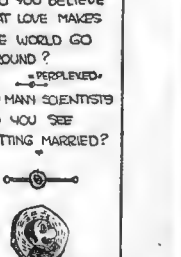

KABIBBLE KABARET

THE THIMBLE THEATRE

KRAZY KAT

BRINGING UP FATHER

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

DAILY IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN AND IN COLORS IN THE BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

By Geo. McManus

POLLY AND HER PALS

Harvard U. S. Patent Office

Eddie Guessed It LET THE WEDDING BELLS RING OUT

JERRY ON THE JOB

Registered U.S. Patent Office.

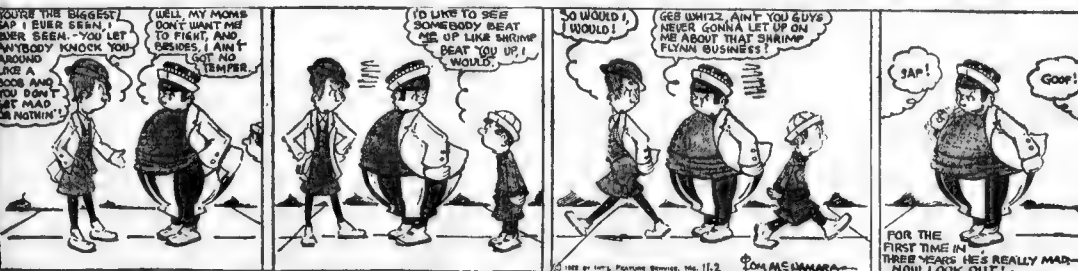

What Good Is an Engineless Engineer?

US BOYS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

At Last Skinny Has Started

HELPFUL HENRY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Sally Just Won't Let Him Work

Medbury Says a Single Guy Is the Only Man Working for Himself

By John C. Medbury

SHEN couldn't find a wonderful thing, and men and women are now equals until they go into the divorce courts.

THIRL is the place where "The Woman Who Pays" becomes "The Woman Who Loses."

SHIT who shares in everything you get is not your debt.

SHER has the best witnesses that money can buy.

WHY shouldn't you, you pay for some more witnesses.

SHERL will be wonderful! The deal about money you've got that you never know you've got.

ON look down everything in the world and find nothing for him to get nothing. Then he's turned got up and demanded it of the THIRL must pay what never was if you pay what the Judge doesn't go to broke, and if it don't pay it you go to jail.

— THE END OF THE ONLY SHOW

The Winning Nifties

SHE usually faints during the pre-wedding, so that her altar

NEWLYWED WAILS

PERHAPS the reason they're called "new grooves" is because when they get married they take care of the page.

Sometimes get a great deal of fun out of marriage. But they're mainly professional humorists.

When a man saves his life from growing cold it may be partly due to the fact that some one is making a great deal of money.

Today's winners:
What is that that makes London a so stupid?
The population is so dense
EDWARD STANKE
No. 190 Bruce street, Lawrence
Which letter of the alphabet resembles a good cigar?
A perfect "O"
W. CALCOLM GUTHRIE
No. 12 Park Avenue, Beachmont
What's the difference between a duck with one wing and a duck with two wings?
A difference of a pin.
MRS GRACE MARSHALL
No. 16 Tanager street, Arlington
We pay a dollar for each nickel printed on one side of the new fifty-cent piece.
Why? Because Americans like to see the money.

AROUND TOWN

the bathroom you'll find that women are usually in doubt about a great many things.

To every woman who uses a comb, I have a word to say. Let her hair, ten use a flatiron to properly lay out their husbands.

The only fellow who ever seem to have perfect aims are those who are unmarried.

Any divorce will tell you that alimony is a couple of steps ahead of matrimony.

It was manifestly unfair of the policeman to charge a couple in an aeroplane. His knee right that sooner or later they'll have to come out of it.

Not all clever city marry men for their money. Some of them are content to wait until the men die from forces by inheritance.

Real right things would be a fine thing if women would only give men a 175 A. P. H.

ARGUMENTED gentle man, whose equanimity was somewhat diminished by eye, nose, and throat, was in the curb and sat down with a thud in the gutter.

"I'm a doctor," he explained as he carolous perpendicularly, muttering "I'm a doctor," and "I'm a doctor," with an inviolable air.

He finally became coherent in his remarks, and he pronounced "it done kicked me."

"Kicked you?" inquired the policeman.

"It done kicked me," he replied.

"Kicked, too?" demanded the sanctified one.

Then the officer of the law asked him if he was ever charged, tested a chemical odor that seemed to him to furnish the clue to the case.

"Kicked you, sir?" said the policeman.

"Kicked me," he replied, "more than a suggestion of irony in his tone." "Guess he lad that kicked you?"

"Kicked me," he replied, "I wouldn't be."

The officer looked the policeman over with a deeply tolerant smile, as one who realized fully that the case would fall apart the answer wrong.

SOUR GRAPES

By Lisle Bell
NOTHING is harder on a man's reputation than two women.

THE CYNIC SAYS:

ALL the world's a stage, said Shakespeare, but the ladies do not always make the most of their time in the drawing rooms. (The house is of those of the man who has been married many times.) Many times he can share with one lady of a safety razor. (The house is of those of the man who has been married many times.) Many times he can share with one lady of a safety razor. (The house is of those of the man who has been married many times.)

Depends on the Point of View wait five minutes I'll send you up one that is."

The Unpopular Verdict

Taylor—My brother only has one friend in the world.

Tolson—Wowm!

Father—Don't you know that an hour of sleep before midnight is worth two after?

So—Yes, but I figure that an hour awake after midnight is worth two before.

Quick Reducing

Jack—Did you put on any weight last Summer?

Jim—Twenty pounds in two months. Then I fell in love and lost it all in two days.

The Explanation

Butler—Yes, madam, the house-dryman cooked the dinner tonight.

This Day in History, November 2, 1922

THIS is the anniversary of the capture of Acre, in 1840, by an English, Austrian and Turkish fleet. The seaport has a romantic history from its first mention in 1500 B. C. It was the last stronghold of the Crusaders.

Largest Evening Circulation in New England

MAGAZINE PAGE

If This Is Your Birthday

YOU are versatile but unlike most versatile people you have the faculty of speculation. Today is one of congenial ones for all feasts and celebrations, and for all businesses concerned with the public welfare.

WHEN A KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN A FLOWER

See This Romance of Princess Mary Tudor Starring Marion Davies in Super Motion Pictures Which Are Now Showing at the Park Theatre

By Charles Major

Do not delay, I beseech your majesty. I pray you, until this brave man, who has so truly served you, be taken from us. For on and from his presence of death. Come, come, my King! I moment, and all that I have—my wealth, my life, my honor—as yours for all time.

The King remained a moment in thought with knite in hand. "Caedon! I have never detected you in all the years I have known you; you are not very large in body, but your honor is great enough to make a dollar's worth of gold. I believe you are telling the truth. I will go at once to liberate Brandon and that little lady, my sister, shall go to France and enjoy life as well as she can. I shall be a king, King Louis. I know of no greater punishment to inflict upon her. This determines me; she shall come out of it no longer. Sir Thomas Brandon is a noble horse ready, and I will go to the lord mayor, then to my lord bishop of Lincoln and arrange to close the French treaty at once. Let everybody know that the Princess Mary will, within the month, be queen of France." This was said to the courtiers, and was all over. The French treaty at once. Let everybody know that the Princess Mary will, within the month, be queen of France.

I followed closely in the wake of the king, though untried, for I had determined to trust no one, not even his majesty, until Brandon should be free. Henry had said he would go to the lord mayor and then to Wolsey, but after we crossed the Reides he passed down Lower Thames street and turned up Fish street hill into Grace Church street on toward Bishopsgate. He said he would stop at Mistress Cornwall's and have a purring, and then on to Wolsey, who at that time lodged in a house near the wall beyond Bishopsgate.

I will know if the king once reached Wolsey's. It would be wise and quick and other gains, interrupted now and then with a little clattering talk on streetcar, for the rest of the day. Then the good bishop would have in a few pretty London women and a dance would follow with wine and cards and the merry would spend the night at Wolsey's, and Brandon in another night in the mire of his Newgate dungeon.

I resolved to raise heaven and earth, and the other plans, too, if necessary, before this should happen. No I rode boldly up to the king, and with uncovered head addressed him: "Your majesty gave me your royal word that you would go to the lord mayor first, and this is the road to my lord bishop of Lincoln, and in all the years I have known your majesty, both gallant and in potent king, this is the first request I ever proffered, and now I only ask of you to save your own noble honor, and do your duty as man and king."

These were bold words, but I did not care one little farthing whether they pleased him or not. The king stared at me and said: "Caedon! you are a perfect heint at my heels. But you are right; I had forgotten my errand. You disturbed my dinner, and my stomach called loudly for one of Mistress Cornwall's puddings; but you are right to insist on it. What a friend you are in case of need. Would I had one like you!"

Your majesty has two of whom know, one riding humbly by your royal side, and the other lying in the worst dungeon in Christendom. With this the king wheeled about and started west toward Goldhill.

Oh, how I hated Henry for that! How I hated Henry for that! How I hated Henry for that! How I hated Henry for that! How I hated Henry for that!

Princess Mary (Marion Davies) pleading with the king for the life of Brandon to repeat. The only hesitancy was from a doubt of its truth.

The lord mayor was kind enough to say that he felt little doubt of my word, but that friendship would often drive a man to any extremity, even falsehood, to save a friend.

Then I offered to go into custody myself and pay the penalty, death, for helping a convicted felon. I knew I was willing to risk my truthfulness without a doubt. It was so pronounced as to be troublesome at times—and as to Mary—well, I had no doubt of her, either. If she would be sure to do it.

I have often wondered how much of the general fund of evil in the world comes from thoughtlessness. Cultivate truth and you make virtue; I believe. But this is no time to philosophize.

My offer was satisfactory, for what more can a man do than pledge his life for his friend? We had scripture for that, as saying: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." The lord mayor did not require my proffered pledge, but readily consented that the king should write an order for Brandon's pardon and release. This was done at once, and was, I think, together with a sheriff's warrant and his four yeomen, hastened to Newgate, while Henry went over to Wolsey's to tell Mary's tale.

Brandon was brought up with chains and manacles at his ankles and wrists. When he entered the room and saw me, he exclaimed: "Ah! Caedon, is that you? I thought they had brought me to hang me, and was glad for the change; but I suppose you would not come to help at this, even if you have let me here to rest, God only knows how long, I have forgotten."

I could not restrain the tears at sight of him. "Your words are more than just," I said, and, being anxious that he should know at once that my fault had not been so great as I feared, continued hurriedly: "The king sent me to France upon an hour's notice, the day after your arrest. I know how much I should not have gone without seeing you out of this, but you had enjoined silence upon me, and I trusted to the promises of another."

"I thought as much. You are in no way to blame, my friend, all I ask is that you never mention the subject again."

"My friend," Ah! the words were dear to me as words of love from a sweetheart's lips.

I hardly recognized him, he was so fearfully covered with filth and dirt and creeping things. His hair and beard were unkempt and matted, and his eyes and cheeks were listless and sunken; but I will describe him no further. Sufficing had well-nigh done its work, and nothing but the hard handed gathered in his years of camp life and war could have saved him from death. I halted and revolted when he as well as I could at Newgate, and then took him home to Greenwich in a horse litter, where my maid and I thoroughly washed, dressed and shared the poor fellow and put him to bed.

"Ah! this bed is a favorite of paradise," he said, as he lay upon the mattress.

It was a pitiful sight, and I could hardly refrain from tears. I sent my maid to fetch a certain Moor, a learned scholar, though a hated foreigner, who lived just off Cheap and sold small arms, and advised him to come to my house, and I both knew him well, and admired his learning and gentleness, and loved him for his sweet philosophy of life, the lesson of which was charity—a modest little plant too often overshadowed by the rank outgrowth of pompous intellect, continued hurriedly:

The Moor was learned in the healing potions of the east, and insisted, privately, of course, that all the ailments and ills in Christendom could be cured by the people of the east are unquestionably far in advance of us in knowledge of remedies. The Moor at once gave Brandon a soothing drink, which soon put him into a sweet sleep. He then bled him as he slept, with some strengthening lozenges, and a glass of brandy, and spoke a few cabalistic words, and, sure enough, as strong were the healing remedies and in remembrance that the next morning Brandon was another man, though very far from well and strong. The Moor recommended nutritious food, such as roast beef and generous wine, and, although this was contrary to the general belief, which is, with ancient reason, that the evil spirit of disease, yet so great was our faith in him that he followed his directions, and in a few days Brandon had almost regained his old-time strength.

I will ask you to go back with me for a moment.

During the week, between Brandon's interview with Mary in the ante-room of the king's bed-chamber and the tragedy at Bishopsgate, he and I had many conversations about the extraordinary situation in which he found himself.

Courtesy, Robert Merritt. To Be Continued Tomorrow

WHEN A GIRL MARRIES

"NOT exactly," said Rosa, setting on this and such variety that I felt sure it was precisely the opportunity she'd waited. "I only have a way—happy faculty of coming along with me."

"Happy faculty?" said Rosa, looking at me with a little telephone conversation with her very good and devoted friend, Ralph Lacy.

The looked around to make sure of her effect. Her three wags, the Virginia and Pat are far too much inclined and far too thorough in convinced of my satisfaction to be Jim to be swept away by a word of inauspicious. But Rosa wasn't to be so easily deceived. She held up her finger and giggled it at me very cooly.

"Naughty! Naughty!" she cried. "Weak days you are free to flirt with you admirer, but can't you take for yourself a vacation on Sunday? It is a day rest from what you do all the rest of the week, Mrs. Harrison. And make some of the people also think how it is a day for repenting their sins."

"Ralph Lacy's no sin!" I laughed, determined that this splendid and loyal friendship should not be touched by her malice. "It's one of my good points. You'll like him, tremendously. Pat! And it will do him good of good to know Jennie. He's a brilliant man without with a hint of a word he may through college and up to a present splendid position and he'll be longer to learn all the delicate, fine things to which friendship with Jennie might give him access."

"Hav' you?" cried Pat. "That's a fine little speech, Alan. And I'm after thinking that a man of whom you speak will be worth the pains Jennie might be put to show him a few of the things she's after knowing."

"I'll be proud to be a finishing school," laughed Jennie. "But I can just fancy that this important citizen has the instinctive good sense which I'm beginning to learn is more important than mere good manners."

"Hav' you, again?" cried Pat. "The better you two come to know each other the more you gain. I'm noticing that. When two fine women are such compliments to each other as you girls are, the complicity means do be following like the day the night."

By ANN LISLE

At this Rosa came to her feet. There was an undisputed opportunity in her voice.

"While you folks exchange compliments," she cried, "I'll see permission to use the telephone. Mr. Stone invited me to spend the day with him at the beach. For that is not just the season, but since you are making plans which do not consider the night, I think it may be wise that I go somewhere that I am not an evening in the way with the very people I have introduced here."

"How better say," said Pat, in a placating tone. "You're making us short a girl for our tea party. I'll be after declaring that no social function is a complete success when it's one girl that's missing to make it even partners."

"A social function," laughed Rosa, curtly. "There are you are changing, Mrs. Harrison. I must write Jennie and warn her that she'll have to be more like Jennie, red rose now."

With this she flung from the room. Whereupon Virginia turned to Pat and cried: "How long do we have to put up with this?"

Overland, 1922. The Picture Palace, Inc. To Be Continued Tomorrow

BEST RECIPES

New England housewives are requested to send in recipes for appetizing dishes. One dollar will be sent each winner printed here. Address: Editor, Boston American & Boston, Mass.

Spinach Balls
Equal bulk of finely chopped spinach that has been well seasoned, and very fine dry bread crumbs. Season highly with pepper, salt and cayenne. Add enough white of egg to moisten well, then stand aside to stiffen. Shape in balls the size of a hickory nut; pack in the hot soup for five minutes and serve 3 or 4 to each plate of clear soup. MRS. H. VALENTIN.

No. 272 Park street, Needham, Mass.

Salmon Salad
Take 1 cup pickles finely chopped, 1 can salmon, 4 hard-boiled eggs. Chop all fine and mix with the following dressing: 1 teaspoon mustard, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon cream or rich milk, 6 tablespoons vinegar and 1 egg. Mix mustard and sugar, then the rest, putting in vinegar last. Let all come to a boil and pour over as soon as pickles.

Mercy Hospital Nurses' Training School, Springfield, Mass.

The Best Joke I Ever Heard

The Boston American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address: Editor, Boston American.

Barb—What are you doing there?
Sam—I'm looking for mah hand.
Carb—Well, what good will it do you if you find it?
Sam—It ain't so much the hand, Carb; but I drew a perfectly good pair of dice in it. I sold 'em to a gent, No. 31 Judson street, Roxbury. I want a box of cigars, please."

"Yes, madam. A saving cigar or two."
"Very strong, please. I've heard my husband complain about his cigars breaking in his pockets."
—Robert Dillon, No. 80 Cascade street, Pittsburg, Mass.

Embarrassing Moments

Being a girl and her friend a distance away I thought it was one of my shortcomings. Getting nearer to her I called her by name, but she did not turn around. Thinking I could take her by surprise, I ran up and tickled her. Imagine my embarrassment when she asked me to tickle her. "What the idea of tickling me?" I told her my mistake, but she only laughed at me.

MISS GERTRUDE QUINN, No. 311 Ames street, Fall River, Mass.

Dreams Go Up in Smoke
She touched him with her ruby lips. The first time that they met. She burned him up and cast him off—
That poor old cigarette.

Smart Sayings of Clever Children

My little cousin, age three years, was in the habit of eating with her fingers after her food had been cut up for her. One day while visiting with her aunt, she was invited to stay to lunch. On reaching home, her mother said: "Well, I hope you didn't eat your fingers!" To which she quickly replied: "Oh, no, mudder, I couldn't, 'cause they had soup."

ALICE M. DUFFEE, 184 Froster street, Salem, Mass.

Isn't that a lovely wave?

They all admire the work of GARRITY'S WONDERWAVERS. But only users know how convenient and comfortable these wonderful wavers really are.

Of soft, flexible construction with finely finished ends—they can be slept on with perfect restfulness the whole night through. They will not split nor break the finest hair—as the ordinary "wire" wavers do. And they can be used for months and months, without signs of wear.

Compare WONDERWAVERS construction and finish with so-called "cheaper" kinds. You'll see why WONDERWAVERS would be cheap at 25c each.

Try a card!

10 CENTS A CARD AT ALL LEADING FIVE & TEN-CENT STORES

Garrity's WONDERWAVERS

Sun-Maid Raisins

Make plain foods better and you'll save

Use raisins to make plain foods more attractive and you can save food bills. Add the raisins' zest to your rice pudding and blue pudding. Serve raisins stewed with oatmeal to win little folks. Flavor isn't always a matter of expense. Use the raisins' richness. Sun-Maid Raisins should cost you no more than the following prices:

Asked for at an auto show—25c. Second or third-class 15c. Second or third-class 15c. Second or third-class 15c.

Ask dealers for Sun-Maid Raisins

Had You One Today?

More breath-catching than a cyclone; more thrills than a rodeo; more speed than an automobile race; more entertainment for the money than you ever had before. See it at one of the following theatres:

Nov. 6 - - - - - Nevada St. Casino, Mass.
Nov. 10 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 15 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 18 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 22 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 25 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 28 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 31 - - - - - Casino, Mass.

Nov. 10 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 12 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 15 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 18 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 22 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 25 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 28 - - - - - Casino, Mass.
Nov. 31 - - - - - Casino, Mass.

Produced and directed by Geo. B. Serris

Patheserial

3,500 Shots a Minute
A SPANISH inventor has produced a new machine gun capable of firing 3,500 shots a minute. The new war terror fires twenty shots a minute from each of fifty barrels. Its operation requires five men.

Venus Stands Still

This afternoon the planet Venus will be moving in such a direction with reference to the earth's simultaneous motion that she will appear to be stationary in the sky. In fact she will, for a time, be coming directly toward us.

BEST PATTERN FOR SIX CENTS

A BLENDER FASHION FOR A STOUT FORM

4179. This model expresses a becoming style for the woman of mature figure. Whether of serge, velvet, tricot or velours, the vest may be embroidered or braided. The sleeves are a one-piece model with comfort and ease in their lines.

The pattern is cut in seven sizes, 35, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 35-inch size requires five yards of 36-inch material. The width at the foot is about 2 1/2 yards.

AN IDEAL HOUSE DRESS

4179. The simplicity of this pattern is its best feature. The pleasing fulness above the bust, and an equally comfortable allowance on the sides at the hip are practical points that will appeal to the woman who likes neatness and comfort in her house dresses. The sleeve in short length is attractive and comfortable. The long sleeve may be turned up for convenience in working.

This pattern is cut in six sizes, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A 35-inch size requires 4 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. The width at the foot is 2 1/2 yards.

A COMFORTABLE UNDERGARMENT

4183. This style will readily appeal to the woman who desires freedom and comfort as applied to bloomers. Bastes, crepe, serge, flannel and silk are good materials for this model.

The pattern is cut in four sizes, Small, 27-29; medium, 31-33; large, 35-37; and extra large, 39-41 inches waist measure. A medium size requires 1 1/2 yards of 36-inch material.

A COMFORTABLE SUIT FOR THE SMALL BOY

Pattern 3711 is shown in this illustration. It is cut in four sizes, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. A six-year size requires 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. It makes an illustrated frock and collar will require 1 1/2 yards of material and blouse 1 1/2 yards.

A PRACTICAL CORSET COVER

4179. White crepe with buttoning or embroidery will be nice for this model, or rayon with white bands of a contrasting color. One may also use silk, satin and cambric.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: small, 34-36; medium, 36-38; large, 38-40; extra large, 40-42 inches bust measure. A medium size requires 1 1/2 yards of 36-inch material.

A PRETTY FROCK FOR AFTERNOON AND EVENING

4166-4175. Brocaded canton crepe is here shown, with vest and facings of white georgette. This model is pretty for afternoons, crepe de chine or chiffon velvet.

The waist pattern 4166 may be developed without the above or the brocades. It is cut in six sizes, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. The skirt, 4175, is cut in seven sizes, 25, 27, 29, 31, 33, 35 and 37 inches waist measure. The width at the foot is 2 1/2 yards. To make the dress with sleeves for a 35-inch waist, 4 1/2 yards of 40-inch material. For vest, girls and panel 1 1/2 yards will be required. The dress requires five yards of material less without sleeves.

A PRACTICAL EVER-POPULAR STYLE

4175. Very comfortable and easy to develop in this simple model. It is nice for cambric, muslin, crepe, flannel or fastidious. The collar may be simple, straight, hemstitching, or fancy braid will form a suitable finish.

The pattern is cut in seven sizes, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 35-inch size requires 4 1/2 yards of 36-inch material.

ONE OF THE SEASON'S BEST STYLES

4161. With lines that speak the grace and youth, and good style features in waist and skirt, this model is sure to please. Dress and white plaid gingham with facings of organdy is here portrayed. The dress is in slip-neck style.

It is cut in three sizes, 16, 18 and 20 years. An 18-year size requires 5 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. For trimming as illustrated 1 1/2 yards is required.

MAN AND MAID--By Elinor Glyn

I wonder if all the hundreds of other fellows who look long below the knee and were crippled for eighteen months felt as I did when the new link was fixed and they stood upon two feet again for the first time.

A strange, almost mad sense of exaltation filled me. I could walk! I was no longer a prisoner, dependent upon the devotion of attendants!

I should no longer have to have things placed within reach, and be made to realize impotency!

I was hurt and was awkward for a while. But oh, the joy, joy, joy!

After the doctors and the specialists had gone, with hearty congratulations, my dear old faithful servant had tears in his eyes as he dressed me.

"You must excuse me, Sir Nicholas, but I am so glad."

Excuse him! I could have hugged him in my joy.

He stayed me in one of Mr. Davies' private apartments, and we both stood in front of the long glass in my bedroom, and thus we solemnly shook hands!

I was glorious!

I wanted to run about! I wanted to get out and sing. I played tennis, walking, walking, walking, and forwards, like one of Shylock's penguins. Then I went back to the glass again, actually whistling a tune. Except for the black patch over my eye, I appeared very much the same as I used to do before the war. My shoulder is practically straight now. I am a little thinner, and perhaps my face bears traces of suffering, but in general I don't look much altered.

I wonder what Althea will say when she sees me. I wonder if it will make any difference to her? Tomorrow morning they are going to put in my eye.

I have not written all this in my journal. It seemed too good to be true, and I had a kind of superstitious feeling that I must not even think of it, much less write it, in case it did not come off. But now the moment has come! I am a man again on two feet. Hurrah!

I looked out of the window and kissed my hand to a young girl in the street. I wanted to call to her. "I could walk with you now, perhaps soon I could run!" She looked at me with the corner of her eye!

I began planning how I would surprise Althea! I would be in my bedroom when I knew she was in the salon before lunch, and then I would walk in!

I became excited, there was about a quarter of an hour to wait. I tried to sit down and settle to a book, but it was useless, the words conveyed no sense. I could not even read the paper!

I began listening to every sound, there were not many things passing at this time on a Sunday morning, but of course she would be there. She had not returned. Burton came in to ask if I would postpone lunch.

"Her ladyship did not say when she would be back," he said.

"We had better not wait then. I believe now she told me she would not be in."

Burton had opened a pint of champagne. On this tremendous occasion he felt I should drink my own health.

I had begun to lose some of my joy—I wished she had been here to share it with me.

I was walking up and down—up and down. It is 4 o'clock now, and she has not returned. No doubt her mother is ill, perhaps—perhaps she is dead.

Midnight!

I have spent a lonely day. My exhilaration has all evaporated now. I have had no one to share it with me. Burton and every one is leaving me discreetly alone, knowing I am supposed to be on my honeymoon tomorrow.

I spent the afternoon waiting, waiting. And after tea, when Althea had not arrived, I began taking longer turns, walking up and down the broad corridor, and at last I paused outside her room.

looking nearer, I saw there was a bottle of scent. It had no label, and when I opened it I smelled the exquisite perfume of fresh roses that she uses. Where does she get it? It is the purest I have ever smelled in my life.

(Copyright, 1919, by Elinor Glyn)

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

The Butcher's Blues
To market, to market
To buy a little steak
Home again, home again
To put my watch in lock.

Economical
Jack Spratt could drink no gin,
His wife could drink no eye;
And so, between them both
They kept the cellar dry.

RADIO PROGRAM

AMRAD, WGL, MEDFORD.
7:00 A. M.—"Before Breakfast"
8:00—Musical program.
9:30—Weather forecast.
10:00—Musical program for the Boston Radio Exposition.
1:30 P. M.—Market report (435 meters).
3:00—Mid-afternoon news broadcast, furnished by Boston American.
5:25—Musical program.
6:00—Market report.
6:30—Boston police reports, late news flashes, early sports news, Boston American.
8:30—Evening program.
9:00—Concert. Pearl Bates Norton, soprano, Margaret Anderson, pianist.
9:30—Read a story. "Pearl Bates Norton" and "Margaret Anderson" read a story.
10:00—Musical program.
10:30—The "Night Watchman" by Miss Lucille M. Brown; Miss Blanche Anderson; Mrs. W. H. Brown.
11:00—Dance music, orchestra.
11:30—Bell Time Signal from Arlington.

WNAE, BOSTON.
11:30—Special concert for the Boston Radio Show, Orchestra.
12:00—Mr. A. L. Foster—"Work of the Universal Language."
12:30—Dance music, orchestra; selections on the piano; piano; selections on Victrola.
1:00—Dance music, orchestra.
1:30—Bell Time Signal from Arlington.

WNAE, BOSTON.
11:30—Special concert for the Boston Radio Show, Orchestra.
12:00—Mr. A. L. Foster—"Work of the Universal Language."
12:30—Dance music, orchestra; selections on the piano; piano; selections on Victrola.
1:00—Dance music, orchestra.
1:30—Bell Time Signal from Arlington.

WNAE, BOSTON.
11:30—Special concert for the Boston Radio Show, Orchestra.
12:00—Mr. A. L. Foster—"Work of the Universal Language."
12:30—Dance music, orchestra; selections on the piano; piano; selections on Victrola.
1:00—Dance music, orchestra.
1:30—Bell Time Signal from Arlington.

THE LORRAINE CHICKEN DINNER

"THE BIG HIT OF THE RADIO SHOW"

Merchant Radio Control Desk

"THE EFFICIENT AND BEAUTIFUL IN RADIO"

A. P. MERCHANT CO.

Radio Division, 9 Avery St., Boston

A Weary Search

"I've been looking for my husband for the last two hours," said an agitated woman to a calm one.

Amusements

MARION DAVIES
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

Amusements

SHUBERT
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

Amusements

SHUBERT
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

Amusements

SHUBERT
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

WATSON SISTERS

WATSON SISTERS
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

LOEWS STATE

LOEWS STATE
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

TO HAVE & TO HOLD

TO HAVE & TO HOLD
DAILY at 2:15 & 8:15
SUNDAY MAT at 3:30
PARK THEATRE WHEN PRICES $2.50 TO $10.00
WASHINGTON STREET

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

One of the most interesting experiences of my present tour has been a long, heart-to-heart talk with Mr. Charles W. Moore, president of the American Institute of Finance, business men, government, workers, money, and other self-reverberating subjects. The biggest job on Mr. Moore's hands at present is the running of the city's street car system, which he has instrumental in acquiring for the city from former private owners. And it is in the actual, the active, the job of general manager, Mr. Moore says to me, "that Detroit has the largest municipal owned and operated street car system in the world, and that our activities here are being viewed by many as a sort of big scale experiment, and that success or failure here will have an influence all over this country. Why I have shouldered the duties of general manager. That is why, notwithstanding all the other duties attached to the office of Mayor, I am getting up early every morning and making street car the street railway office and spending the entire afternoon there every day."

"This job is being made all the more difficult by the bitter opposition, and the fact that the city is being raised by the business men of this city. However, I'm getting accustomed to this kind of thing, and as the business interests have opposed every important item I have taken since I took office, but," the mayor added with a smile, "the people here are coming up right and left and the city has won every suit brought up in the courts."

Arthur E. B. states that both the Maxwell and Chalmers automobile companies are to expand their operations enormously in the coming year. The outlook for next spring is regarded as excellent.

G. L. Campbell, the dynamic cells manager of the Chrysler, whose achievements have attracted a great deal of attention in the automobile world, told me that he had been breaking all records and that plans have been perfected for still greater growth next year.

"The tramp who exuberantly smiled via whiskey made no comment when the mayor told him a glass of the finest stuff in the saloon and when he spoke of the matter with this blond smile."

"This whiskey speaks for itself."

"The story comes to my mind in regard to Cadillac. Cadillac's record, like the Cadillac car, speaks for itself."

(Copyright 1922, by B. C. Forbes)

WALL ST. GOSSIP

STUTZ MOTOR stockholders have authorized issue of $1,000,000 15 per cent. preferred stock, convertible into common stock, and increase in stock by 63,000 shares.

STANDARD OIL of New Jersey has completed Casella No. 3 well at a cost of $200,000, producing 29,000 barrels of oil.

NEW JERSEY ZINC CO. reports for three months ended September 30 net income of $1,232,570 after taxes was $125,000, and net income of $1,585,425 in preceding quarter.

EFFICIENT OFFICIAL is one who protects stockholders and their property, and as to their company's condition.

ALLIS-CHALMERS is said finally to have turned the corner, earning its dividends in the past quarter.

U. S. INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL plants are still running at capacity. Story is that standard oil of New Jersey will contract for entire output of this plant.

U. S. REALTY stockholders will vote November 10 on authorization of $8,851,280 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock, convertible into common stock.

U. S. STEEL stockholders' operations show weekly increase and for current week will probably average in excess of 75, compared with about 70 per cent. last week.

MOON MOTOR CAR for quarter ended September 30 reports net profit of $247,475, after expenses and reserves for taxes.

YOUNGSTOWN SHEET & TUBE listing of common on the board is expected at an early date.

PRESIDENT NIXONALY of the Nunnally company refused to comment on rumors that dividends may be resumed by the company.

PACIFIC MAIL stands to benefit not only by ship and mail, but also by means of Oriental railway war.

LIGGETT & MYERS is reported to be planning to raise $100,000 in debentures in package form to twelve in furtherance of tobacco war.

AMERICAN CAN in year's first nine months is said to have earned around 20 per cent. on common.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

DOZEN ISSUES LIFT 4 OR MORE POINTS IN GENERAL RALLY ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE

By B. C. Forbes

In a strong New York market a dozen or more issues lifted 4 points or better. The general rally was a remarkable exhibition of strength. Money renewed at 5 per cent.

May Department Stores added 5 points to its noteworthy gain to 50 points from the year's low and nearly half of the gain has been made in the last two months. A stock dividend was near.

CAN AT HIGH

Texas Gulf Sulphur set a year's high following reports directors would increase $4 dividend to $5 on November 15. Manhattan Shirts and Dime Mines also made fresh tops for the day.

American Can, up 2 1/2 at 74 1/2, set a record high.

Adams Express opened late in the day, up 3 1/2 on prospective dividend action.

Resumption of active demand for high priced dividend paying stocks was the outstanding feature of afternoon dealings.

The public utility shares were buoyant. American Express rose 7 1/2. Public Service of New Jersey 5 1/2 and Consolidated Gas, Pacific Gas & Electric and West. Fargo 3 to 3 1/2.

Declination of an 18 per cent stock dividend by American Shirts and Dime carried the price up over 3 points.

EXERCISES UP

Brick buying of the putpman sent American Car up 6 1/2, Putpman 4 1/2 and General Electric, Baldwin and American Locomotive 3 to 3 1/2.

Investment railways were up, notably higher, Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western improving 2 to 2 1/2.

Other noteworthy advances were National Lead 5 1/2, National Biscuit 5, American Radiator 4 1/2, Standard Oil of New Jersey 4 1/2, Mexican Petroleum 4 1/2, and Gulf States 4 1/2.

Standard Cereal and General American Tank 3 to 3 1/2.

Wall St. Gossip

STUTZ MOTOR stockholders have authorized issue of $1,000,000 15 per cent. preferred stock, convertible into common stock, and increase in stock by 63,000 shares.

STANDARD OIL of New Jersey has completed Casella No. 3 well at a cost of $200,000, producing 29,000 barrels of oil.

NEW JERSEY ZINC CO. reports for three months ended September 30 net income of $1,232,570 after taxes was $125,000, and net income of $1,585,425 in preceding quarter.

EFFICIENT OFFICIAL is one who protects stockholders and their property, and as to their company's condition.

ALLIS-CHALMERS is said finally to have turned the corner, earning its dividends in the past quarter.

U. S. INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL plants are still running at capacity. Story is that standard oil of New Jersey will contract for entire output of this plant.

U. S. REALTY stockholders will vote November 10 on authorization of $8,851,280 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock, convertible into common stock.

U. S. STEEL stockholders' operations show weekly increase and for current week will probably average in excess of 75, compared with about 70 per cent. last week.

MOON MOTOR CAR for quarter ended September 30 reports net profit of $247,475, after expenses and reserves for taxes.

YOUNGSTOWN SHEET & TUBE listing of common on the board is expected at an early date.

PRESIDENT NIXONALY of the Nunnally company refused to comment on rumors that dividends may be resumed by the company.

PACIFIC MAIL stands to benefit not only by ship and mail, but also by means of Oriental railway war.

LIGGETT & MYERS is reported to be planning to raise $100,000 in debentures in package form to twelve in furtherance of tobacco war.

AMERICAN CAN in year's first nine months is said to have earned around 20 per cent. on common.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

WILLIAMS AM. Investment Co. and Co. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec. E. C. H. Moore, Pres. and Sec.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By B. C. Forbes

Prices on the New York Stock Exchange had the following range:

Stocks Open High Low Close

Adams Express 140 142 140 141

American Can 74 76 74 75

American Locomotive 3 3 1/2

American Radiator 4 1/2 4 3/4

American Shirts and Dime 18 19

American Steel 110 112 110 111

American Tank 3 3 1/2

American Wire 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

Boston Stocks

By B. C. Forbes

Prices on the Boston Stock Exchange had the following range:

Stocks Open High Low Close

Adams Express 140 142 140 141

American Can 74 76 74 75

American Locomotive 3 3 1/2

American Radiator 4 1/2 4 3/4

American Shirts and Dime 18 19

American Steel 110 112 110 111

American Tank 3 3 1/2

American Wire 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

RECORD SET BY BOSTON STOCKS

By B. C. Forbes

Prices on the Boston Stock Exchange had the following range:

Stocks Open High Low Close

Adams Express 140 142 140 141

American Can 74 76 74 75

American Locomotive 3 3 1/2

American Radiator 4 1/2 4 3/4

American Shirts and Dime 18 19

American Steel 110 112 110 111

American Tank 3 3 1/2

American Wire 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

American Zinc 110 112 110 111

RECORD SET BY BOSTON STOCKS

By B. C. Forbes

Prices on the Boston Stock Exchange had the following range:

Stocks Open High Low Close

Adams Express 140 142 140 141

American Can 74 76 74 75

American Locomotive 3 3 1/2

American Radiator 4 1/2 4 3/4

American Shirts and Dime 18 19

American Steel 110 112 110 111

